The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the PRINTERS.

THERE is in no Collection of devout Compoſitions a greater Diverſity of Matter than in the Pſalms of David. They appear to have been penned while the Author was under the immediate Impreſſion of thoſe Feelings which he ſo admirably deſcribes; whether of religious Penſiveneſs, devout Contemplation, Admiration of God's Attributes, pious Joy, Gratitude and Thankſgiving, ariſing from the various State of his Mind or temporal Affairs. They are therefore wonderfully fitted and adapted to the Caſe of moſt Men, who at one Time or other, are in ſome of thoſe Situations, and actuated by the ſame Senſations. And as they are written with great Fervour of Spirit, Solidity of Underſtanding, Strength of Fancy, and are the Effuſions of a Soul illuminated by divine Inſpiration, it is not to be wondered that they have ſo often charmed the beſt and greateſt Geniuſes. Sundry of our moſt celebrated Engliſh Poets have employed their Pens in rendering divers of thoſe excellent Pieces into Verſe.----And there is not a ſublimer and more muſical Poem in the ſhorter Compoſitions of Addiſon, than that ſweet Ode which is wrought out of the 19th Pſalm.

I have thus premiſed, to induce, if poſſible, thoſe Youths among us, who have enjoyed the Advantage of a liberal Education, have Leiſure for literary Purſuits, and a Taſte and Capacity for Poetry, which ſome have lately evinced, to engage their agreeable Talents in ſuch inſtructive Performances. The doing of which will give them Pleaſure to reflect on, when Wit and Fancy are no more. In Proof of which, hear the Teſtimony of one of the fineſt and gallanteſt Wits of the laſt Century, who thus cloſes his choice Collection of Poems, with one, On the Fear of God.

Wreſtling with Death, theſe Lines I did indite,
No other Theme cou'd give my Soul Delight.
O that my youth had thus employ'd my Pen!
Or that I now could write as well as then!

Waller.

The holy Scriptures are the true Fountain from which to extract the richeſt Draughts of Poeſy, both as to Dignity of Matter, and Embelliſhment of Figures; witneſs the noble Uſe the great Milton made of them in his marvellous Poems; and though few muſt expect to reach to ſuch Heights as did that Prodigy of Learning and Genius, yet all, according to their Ability, may follow his illuſtrious Example.---The 145th Pſalm, a Paraphraſe of which is attempted in the following Hymn, is a moſt beautiful Picture of the SUPREME BEING, whom the Pſalmiſt extols for thoſe amiable Attributes, which moſt of all muſt affect Men with Joy, as Subjects of GOD's moral Government, his Goodneſs and Mercy.---Such a Subject needs no Apology; and as to the preſent handling of it, if it ſhould excite others, of a ſimilar Taſte (who, like the Author, may ſometimes have an Hour unoccupied by Duty, Buſineſs or Friends, which they would wiſh rationally to employ) to ſuch like Amuſements, he hopes it will plead his Excuſe.

Sept. 15. PHILOMUSUS.

PSALM 145 Paraphraſed.

I.

TO Thee all-bounteous Lord and King,
My Muſe in ſweeteſt Strains ſhall ſing;
Her Morning and her Evening Lays
Shall warble in thy glorious Praiſe;
Nor ever ſhall my grateful Soul
Neglect thy Goodneſs to extol.
Of Power and Wiſdom, Source immenſe!
Unſearchable to mortal Senſe!
From Age to Age the human Race
Thro' all thy Works the God ſhall trace,
Declaring to their Progeny
The Wonders of thy Majeſty.
I too will join th' adoring Throng,
Thy Name ſhall dignify my Song;
And with thy Acts my Tongue ſhall ſound
Reſponſive to the World around.

II.

The World around with Heav'n ſhall join,
Proclaiming Thou art Love Divine;
Compaſſion, Grace and Mercy ſweet,
Hover, like Cherubs, round thy Seat;
And Goodneſs too, whoſe Smile alone
Can beautify thy awful Throne.
Juſtice with Fear would ſtrike us dead,
That rears each drooping Sinner's Head;
That firſt inſpir'd the breathleſs Clay,
And Man ſuſtains from Day to Day;
And not alone to Man's confin'd,
It gladdens ev'ry living Kind;
Show'ring its Bleſſings in each Clime,
Thro' all the ceaſeleſs Rounds of Time,
Painting the Seaſons as they roll,
And ſcatt'ring Bliſs from Pole to Pole,
Darting the Sun's prolific Beams,
Filling with Silver Fiſh the Streams,
Giving ſweet Vegetation Birth,
And breathing Fragrance o'er the Earth.

III.

To Thee then let all Beings bend,
And ſhouts of Joy the Ether rend:
And chiefly let thy Saints on high
Laud the great Sov'reign of the Sky;
Leading on th' exultant Choir
In Strains of Rapture, Words of Fire,
Till Heav'n and Earth, and Hell's deep bound,
Shall with triumphant Shouts reſound.
Till all confeſs thy glorious Fame,
And tremblingly adore thy Name.
Thus ever ſhall thy Reign endure,
In endleſs Majeſty ſecure.

IV.

When Trouble ſinks us to the Duſt,
To Thee, O Lord, for Aid we truſt.
'Tis thine to heal Affliction's ſmart,
And raiſe from Death the languid Heart.
In meager Want or Poverty,
To Thee we lift the ſuppliant Eye;
Thy bounteous Hand, profuſely kind,
Pours the rich Banquet unconfin'd,
To Human and to Beaſts their Food,
While all enjoy their proper Good.

V.

Righteous and Holy is the Lord,
And will to all his Grace afford;
To all who his great Name revere,
And worſhip him with Heart ſincere.
Such in his glorious Courts ſhall dwell,
And triumph over Death and Hell;
But thoſe who his Diſpleaſure move,
Shall from his ſov'reign Joys be drove.
Bleſs then, my Soul, his Name ſupreme,
And let all Nature join the Theme;
All Nature to its GOD ſhall cry,
Who lives thro' deep Eternity.

EDWARD BROADFIELD, takes this method of informing the public, that he is now removed to Mr. Bond's FISHERY, near Trenton, which is the compleateſt on the continent, on which fiſhery there is a pond near a quarter of a mile long, and, at low water, contains 5 or 6 feet in depth, and a conſtant ſupply every tide from the river, which is their own element, and not ſpring water; ſo that it is now in his power to put up fiſh moſt part of the winter, and with more credit than ever any yet put up; as he intends the fiſh to go all through his own hands, not truſting to ſervants, ſo that he hopes to give a more general ſatisfaction than ever, as no ſtruck or bruiſed fiſh will be put up by the ſubſcriber, whoſe fiſh it was, cured by himſelf when he lived at Glouceſter, that received the bounty of Fifty Pounds ſterling, for the beſt fiſh cured in North America, from the Society of Arts and Commerce in London, and not the Lamberton fiſh, ſo artfully mentioned in Mr. Bradford's paper ſome time ago: The following is an experienced method to keep the ſubſcriber's fiſh in the hotteſt climate two years; take out the cork, pour out the pickle into ſome dry bowl or pan, take out the numbered head, put the cork in tight, harden on the hoops, pouring the pickle on the fiſh, then cut a piece of board, ſo as to go within the keg, putting a weight thereon, ſufficient to keep the pickle above the board, ſo that if any mould or ſcum ſhould ariſe, it might be taken off with a ſpoon, and prevent its being intermixed with the fiſh; if there ſhould not be pickle ſufficient, add as much neat vinegar, then put a cloth over the keg, and the head upon that, you may keep it during pleaſure.

N. B. The ſubſcriber, as ſoon as he can diſcharge his debts with honour, intends immediately for England; in the mean time is obliged to all perſons who have, or ſhall encourage the ſaid manufacture. All orders will be punctually anſwered by their humble ſervant,

EDWARD BROADFIELD.

By Captain BOYD, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, in seven Weeks Paſſage, we have the following Advices, viz.

WARSAW, July 1.

PRINCE Radzivil has been elected Marſhal of the General Confederacy of Radon, after ſome pretty ſharp debates, in which it is aſſured ſome blood has been ſpilt.

Genoa, July 4. They write from Madrid, that a treaty is negotiating with Ruſſia, and another with ſome German Princes, for allowing a number of their ſubjects to ſettle with their families in Spain, in order to cultivate a barren tract of ground, called Serra Molenos. They are to be allowed the expences of their journey, and, on their arrival in the Spaniſh territories, are to receive the King's pay, and be provided with neceſſaries for a year. They are alſo to be furniſhed with materials for building, and tools for huſbandry; but after the expiration of the above mentioned term, they are to maintain themſelves with the produce or revenue of their reſpective lands, which will be granted to them as their full property, beſides an exemption from all taxes for ten years to come.

By a veſſel arrived here from Toulon we learn, that a frigate and a chebec had ſailed from that port for Cadiz, but we are ſtrangers to the motive. It is added, that in order to forward the works carrying on at the ſaid port, the number of workmen had been doubled, and that veſſels laden with timber for ſhip building, were perpetually arriving there from different parts of Italy.

Florence, July 4. There are actually 6000 Jeſuits in the ports of Ortibello, St. Stephen, and port Real, on account of the Republic of Genoa not having permitted them to land on their territories.

Warſaw, July 4. The Confederated Diſſidents have received from the courts of Copenhagen, Stockholm, and Berlin, the ſtrongeſt aſſurances of protection. The King of Sweden, in particular, has charged his miniſter at Peterſburgh, to deliver to the deputy Pfarſki, a declaration in their favour, which commiſſion he has already diſcharged.

Paris, July 7. A melancholy accident happened on the 29th ult. at a country ſeat on the ſea coaſt, in the neighbourhood of Boulogne. About 5 in the evening the gardiner, two other domeſtic ſervants, and four maids, were all in an upper room, wherein was depoſited a box with 15 lb. of gunpowder. The gardiner, in ſport, took up a fowling piece, which was in the ſame room, and charged it with a very ſmall quantity of powder, which, while he was playing with the trigger, went off without doing any damage. He then charged the piece a ſecond time, when probably a ſpark of fire falling into the box, the powder kindled, and blew up the houſe, with the ſeven people who were in it. Of theſe the gardiner, and one of the maids, were killed on the ſpot, but the five others, though wounded, are alive. One of the ſurviving maids has declared, that at the time when the piece was charged a ſecond time, he was cloſe to a window, which was partly open, and that ſhe was thrown, ſhe knows not how, into the court before the houſe.

LONDON.

July 18. We hear a Nobleman, at the court end of the town, has loſt a bett of two thouſand guineas, on the late deciſion of the Douglaſs cauſe.

They write from Guernſey, that the coaſt of France, between the Ran of Alderney and Cape Uſhant, has been ſtrewed with pieces of ſhipwreck during the late hard gales of wind in the channel.

We are aſſured that the Earl of Chatham has reſigned his place.

July 21. We are informed that there are eight eminent citizens, who have already declared to ſtand candidates for the city of London at the enſuing general election.

The Earl of Chatham is ſo enfeebled by his preſent illneſs, that his Lordſhip has been obliged to be carried, for the benefit of the air, between two horſes on a litter.

It is ſaid that the Earl of Chatham will ſhortly ſet out for the ſouth of France, for the recovery of his health.

We are told his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle is to have ſome conſiderable employment. And yeſterday many of thoſe who are to compoſe the new miniſtry, dined with his Grace at Claremont.

It is ſaid that the Marquis of Rockingham is to be at the head of the treaſury.

From Malaga they write, that ſome aſſaſſins broke into the houſe of Mr. Tulk, an Engliſh gentleman there, when they killed two of his domeſtics, and dangerouſly wounded him, but he is ſince recovered. Mr. Tulk, and ſome young gentlemen, paſſing by the Hoſt, and not paying reverence to it, is ſaid to have occaſioned this horrid act.

The iſland of Tercera, the largeſt but one of the Azores, it is ſaid, is to be ceded to Britain, in ſatisfaction for the late aids furniſhed to Portugal. This iſland can boaſt of a ſoil fit for the production of corn, cattle, and poultry; but its wine is very deſpicable. It has a good harbour, and lies in the Atlantic Ocean, about half way between Europe and America.

A patent is paſſing the great ſeal, appointing William Spry, Eſq; Governor of the iſland of Barbados.

We hear that expreſſes have been ſent to the Right Hon. Earl Temple, and the Right Hon. William Dowdeſwell, Eſq; deſiring their attendance in town.

On Sunday night at ten, the Duke of Bedford came from Wooburn abbey to Bedford houſe.

A letter received at Liſbon, from the Bay of All Saints, mentions, that two Dutch ſloops, and a ſchooner, laden with powder and ſhot, ſmall arms, ordnance ſtores, &c. were boarded by a Portugueſe man of war near the Rio de la Plata, the commander of which finding the above cargoes were for the uſe of the Jeſuits of Paraguay, had confiſcated the whole, for the uſe of the king of Portugal.

The Induſtry of Liverpool, Capt. Erſkine, late commander, is arrived at that port from Africa. On the 25th of March laſt, an inſurrection happened on board among the ſlaves, on the windward coaſt of Africa; ſome of them having got off their irons, they immediately fell upon the Captain, and four others, whom they killed; the ſecond mate and cooper ſaved their lives, by concealing themſelves in the hold; the Negroes preſerved one of the men as a pilot, to make the ſhore, which having gained, they all fled except four, which the mate and cooper perceiving, they purſued them, and recovered about 12 out of 137.

It is ſaid, that the crown made by Mr. Cox, of Shoe-Lane, Jeweller, for a Nabob in the Eaſt-Indies, and ſent as a preſent from the company, by Capt. Rous, in the Britannia, was ſo much approved of, that the Nabob ordered a preſent of rupees to be made in return, amounting to about 75,000 l. ſterling. We hear the crown was valued before it was ſent over at 14,000 l.

Letters from Chatham mention, that orders were received, by expreſs from the Admiralty, at that yard, not to break up the Monmouth man of war, of 70 guns, as was formerly ordered; but to take her into Dock, and reſurvey her, and reduce her to a ſixty gun ſhip.

We hear from Amſterdam, that they import 13,000 laſts of corn from the Baltic in a week, and export 30,000 laſts to the Mediterranean in a month, notwithſtanding which their granaries were all full, and ready to ſupply the London market, when required.

It is ſaid that the decree given in Scotland, in favour of the Hamilton family, is not final; and that an appeal will be made next ſeſſions to the Right Hon. Houſe of Peers, for a re-hearing.

The changes in the Adminiſtration expected for ſome time paſt, and which were, it was generally ſuppoſed, to have been ſettled in the cabinet council at St. James's, have not yet taken place. It has been currently reported, that a plan, formed by their Graces Bedford and Newcaſtle, the Marquis of Rockingham, and the Hon. Mr. George Grenville, was yeſterday laid before a great perſonage, in which, of the above number, only the Marquis was at the levee yeſterday; and the Duke of Newcaſtle came to town about noon.

It is ſaid that Lord Clive, on his landing at Portſmouth, ordered five guineas to be given to each of the common ſailors belonging to the Britannia, which brought him home.

July 23. The confederacies formed by the Malecontents ſeem to draw the attention of the Senate rather more than the affair of the Diſſidents. The new Prince Primate ſet out the 30th ult. for Radon, whither a body of Ruſſian troops has advanced, with a large train of artillery, in order to ſupport the confederates, in caſe of neceſſity.

We are aſſured, that by a late treaty between this Court and that of Verſailles, a mutual agreement hath been entered into, for the reciprocal ſurrender of all fugitives, who may fly for ſhelter into either kingdoms, for any acts of rebellion or felony; in conſequence of which, we hear that a certain Nobleman's ſteward, and a banker's clerk, of this country, who have taken ſhelter in France, after running away with conſiderable ſums, have been lately demanded, in conformity to the ſaid treaty.

Yeſterday an expreſs was ſent off with ſome particular diſpatches for their Excellencies the Lords Juſtices of Ireland.

We are aſſured that a noble Lord, much eſteemed in the literary world, lately diſpoſed of a work now publiſhing, to two bookſellers, one at the weſt end of the town, the other in the city, for two thouſand guineas.

July 25. We can with great certainty aſſure the public, that the new miniſtry are not ſettled, notwithſtanding what has been mentioned in the public papers; and to ſpeak in the ſtock-broker's phraſe, This morning nothing done.

Earl T----- refuſed to join the late intended coalition, as being haſty, crude, undigeſted and impermanent.

We hear, that within theſe few months, not leſs than three thouſand ſheep have been carried to France.

A morning paper ſays, we hear a great perſonage has expreſſed his reſentment, in pretty ſevere terms, to a certain nobleman, of the inconſiſtency of his conduct hitherto, which, it is ſaid, would be attended with a ſpeedy reſignation.

We hear the late inveſtigation of the Douglaſs cauſe, has already been attended with an expence of thirty thouſand pounds.

A letter from Podore factory and ſettlement ſays, that one of the Mooriſh caravans had lately diſcovered, a long way inland, a ſpecies of white negroes of very diminutive ſtature; one of whom, of the male ſex, they brought with them to the fort, who did not exceed three feet high.

In the courſe of this week two corn ſhips from Holland, three from Hamburgh, two from Leghorn, and two from Dantzick, arrived in the river.

By letters from Leghorn there is advice, that General Paoli had ſtrongly recommended to an aſſembly of the ſtates to copy the example of Great-Britain, in always maintaining a formidable naval power, as the ſureſt means to preſerve the Corſican nation, and render them reſpected both at home and abroad.

Letters from Liſbon, dated June 14, ſay, "The object of the ſea expedition, for which preparations have long been making, is not yet made public. The three men of war, and five tranſports, belonging to the Fernambucco company, are now ready to go to ſea, and only wait the arrival of ſome troops they are to take on board. One of the King's ſloops lately ſailed for Rio Janeiro, and ſhe was convoyed by a man of war to a certain latitude; from whence it is preſumed that ſhe has ſome important diſpatches on board for the Governor, relative to the expedition in queſtion."

July 27. The Hague gazette, of the 21ſt inſt. ſays, that one of the principal affairs that Sir James Gray, Ambaſſador from this Court to Spain, is charged with, is to ſettle the diſpute relating to the Manilla ranſom.

On Saturday a ſailor, who had bought an old ſea cheſt for five ſhillings at a broker's, in Roſemary-lane, diſcovered ſoon afterwards one hundred and eleven Spaniſh gold piſtoles, concealed in a falſe lining at the bottom.

A morning paper ſays, that as the chimnies of a Coffee-houſe, near Eſſex-ſtreet, were ſweeping, the chimney-ſweeper found a pewter quart-pot hid in the kitchen chimney; and bringing it down, it was opened, when it was found to be full of moidores. It is ſuppoſed to have been depoſited there, for ſafety, by the late Miſtreſs, who died about three weeks ago.

July 28. Letters from Madrid, dated June 30, ſay, "The King has appointed a commiſſion to examine the papers found in the houſes belonging to the Jeſuits, in order to find out, among other things, if thoſe Fathers were not the principal authors of the inſurrection of the populace, which happened laſt year. It is reported that a treaty of commerce is on foot between this Court and that of Ruſſia."

It is remarkable, that out of the numerous Domeſtics who went out with Lord Clive to the Eaſt-Indies, only one returned to England, viz. Mr. Philpot, his Lordſhip's Gentleman, all the reſt having died in the voyage.

July 30. By a ſhip which arrived in Holland the 21ſt inſtant, and departed from Greenland the 28th of June, we learn, that 40 Dutch ſhips had taken only 51 whales, and that 92 others were then empty, with little proſpect of any ſucceſs; and that this ſeaſon has been the worſt ever known.

We hear that on Sunday laſt Lord Clive preſented to the King a letter from the Emperor of Indoſtan, accompanied by ſeveral oriental curioſities; and that his Lordſhip the ſame day had a private conference in the cloſet with his Majeſty, which laſted an hour and a half; after which he had alſo a private audience of the Queen, and preſented to her Majeſty ſome diamonds and pearls from the Great Mogul.

On Tueſday a maſter of a ſhip was recommitted to the King's Bench, on ſuſpicion of intending to defraud the freighters of his ſhip of a large ſum of money, by pretending the cheſts, in which it was contained, were thrown overboard by miſtake, when the ſhip was in great diſtreſs. But on his return from Guildhall, he prevailed on the Tipſtaff who had him in cuſtody, to go with him on board the ſhip in the river to ſee ſome great curioſities; when locking the officer in the cabin, he jumped into a boat, and made his eſcape.

Extract of a letter from Conſtantinople, June 15.

"The Reis Effendi, or miniſter for foreign affairs, lately ſignified to the Envoy of a certain court, that he was to inform his maſter, that ſince the late war, the Porte had a demand upon him for divers ſorts of proviſions, drawn from Wallachia for the ſervice of other powers, and which had been carried off by the troops of the ſaid court. The Envoy having been informed, from good authority, that the Reis Effendi had addreſſed himſelf to the miniſter of another power, and demanded payment of the ſaid debt, told him, that it would be to no purpoſe for him to call upon his court, inaſmuch as he was perſuaded, that it would never pay one farthing of it; on which the Reis Effendi informed him, that unleſs the debts were diſcharged, he would bring himſelf into trouble. The Envoy deſired him to give him this anſwer in writing, and in the ſame terms, that he might endeavour to ſecure himſelf againſt ſuch a menace; but the Envoy having ſollicited the day after, of the Grand Seignior, an audience of leave, the Reis Effendi changed his tone, and at preſent ſhews the Envoy greater civility than ever."

According to letters from Holland, the ſtorm lately felt at Valenciennes has extended to that province, and done very great damage there, particularly in the territories of Drune, Baartwyk, Heuſden, Herpt, Eeten, Geuderen, Doeveren, Aalburg, Bois-le-duc, &c. It conſiſted of thunder and lightning, hail, rain, and wind. At Heuſden, the hail continued on the ground to the depth of half a foot; at Herpt, ſeveral houſes were thrown down by the ſtorm; and at Bois-le-duc, all the windows to the ſouth were broken, and the corn in the fields laid level, but happily nobody periſhed.

Yeſterday there was a great council at St. James's; moſt of the great officers aſſiſted.

It is reported, that Lord Chief Juſtice Wilmot will be appointed Lord Chancellor of Ireland.

Laſt week the Britiſh Queen, Sam. Standridge, arrived at Hull from Greenland, with two whales. Likewiſe arrived at the ſaid port a ſhip from Konigſberg, with wheat, barley, and rye, and two from Dantzick, with ditto and peaſe.

We are told, that a young man from Ireland, lately invented a machine for deſtroying enemies by land or water, which was uſed at Woolwich laſt April, and found to anſwer; but has been ſince condemned, as being of too inhuman a nature to be adopted in our warlike enterprizes; that the young man was gratified with too ſmall a reward; that he thereupon retired to France, where he has received the beſt encouragement, and that many of theſe engines are making in that country, under his inſpection, that will bear a charge of three hundred pounds of gunpowder, to be uſed againſt us upon the next rupture.

July 31. By a gentleman juſt come from Liſbon, we are informed, that the Engliſh merchants there are obliged, for want of buſineſs, to diſmiſs their clerks; that they expected money by the laſt fleet from the Brazils, but have got none; that they cannot get in their Portugueſe debts; and that ruin ſtares them in the face, whether they ſtay or go.

Yeſterday the Right Hon. Lord Holland waited on his Majeſty at St. James's.

It is ſaid, that the important poſt of Lord High Treaſurer of England, will ſoon be revived in the perſon of his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York.

The gold and ſilver lace buſineſs in Ireland has received an irreparable injury, as well as the worſted lace branch, on account of a late order to prohibit the wear of thoſe manufactures in the army.

They write from Leghorn, that the Senate of Genoa has offered the ſum of two millions of French livres, to General Paoli, for re-delivery of Capraia, which was refuſed.

From the Marquis of Rockingham's ſetting out for his ſeat in Yorkſhire, and ſeveral other of the Nobility for their reſpective ſeats, it is generally ſuppoſed no changes will take place during the ſummer months.

An eminent cornfactor has ſent over commiſſions for thirty thouſand quarters of corn to be imported, in different bottoms, from New-York, Maryland, New-England, and Pennſylvania.

It is ſaid orders have been ſent over to Holland and Germany, to poſtpone the farther engaging Proteſtant Palatines for the new ſettlements in America.

Edinburgh, July 20. The Lord Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Council of this city, have offered a reward of 200 l. ſterling to any perſon or perſons, who ſhall diſcover the author or authors, of certain incendiary letters, ſent ſome days ago to the Right Hon. the Lord Preſident of the Court of Seſſions, threatning to murder his Lordſhip, and burn his houſes in town and country, for the judgment given by him in a cauſe lately depending before that court.

QUEBEC, September 3.

Monday laſt embarked, and Tueſday ſailed, from this port for Ireland, three tranſports, having on board the Inniſkillin, or 27th regiment, &c. commanded by Colonel Maſſey; which regiment, ſince its arrival in America, has undergone many fatigues and hardſhips, and has always been remarkable for its loyalty, fidelity, honourable and orderly behaviour.

BOSTON, September 21.

By our lateſt advices from London, which came down to the 8th and 9th of July, we are informed, that the King has eſtabliſhed the Admiralty-office for the New-England provinces, and appointed ROBERT ACHMUTY, Eſq; Judge, with £ 300 ſterl. per annum, and to have no fees; JONATHAN SEWALL, Eſq; Advocate-General, and Mr. ARODI THAYER, Marſhal.

NEW-YORK, September 24.

On Tueſday came up from the Hook, where ſhe arrived on Saturday laſt, the 19th inſtant, the ſhip Eagle, Captain Markham, having on board two companies of the Royal Train of Artillery, which we hear are to relieve ſome of thoſe who have been for ſome time on this ſtation, who are expected to go home in the ſame veſſel in about 3 weeks. The ſhip left London the 4th of July, and the land the 1ſt of Auguſt, but we can hear of no late papers or intelligence by her. On the 13th of September, Long. 66, Lat. 39: 10, Captain Markham ſpoke with the ſnow Jenny, Robert Parker, maſter, of New-York, from the Bay for Amſterdam, all well.---The 18th, off Block-Iſland, ſpoke with the ſloop Nancy, from Newfoundland for Rhode-Iſland.

Captain Morgan, from Madeira, in his paſſage to that iſland, was met with by a Salletine ſnow of 12 nine-pounders, about 80 leagues to the weſtward of that iſland; demanded his paſs, and when ſhewn to him, permitted him to go; he was very civil to Capt. Morgan, and offered either proviſions or water, if wanted.

Captain Boyd left Falmouth the 5th of Auguſt, and the Duke Packet had ſailed from thence the 23d of July for this place.---He brings a confirmation of the loſs of the ſhip Hero, Captain Henderſon, of this port, on the Hext Bank, on the coaſt of Holland; the peoples lives ſaved.---Captain Nathaniel Lawrence, of this place, was ſafe arrived in Holland.---The commiſſioners for a board of cuſtoms in America, were not yet ſettled.---The 9th of September Captain Boyd ſpoke with a ſnow, bound from Philadelphia for Antigua.

Sept 28. Yeſterday arrived here the Ship New-Edward, Capt. Thomas Miller, from London, which place he left the 23d of July, and the land the 8th of Auguſt, in company with the Hope, Capt. Davies, of and for this port: The Edward and Hope are full ſhips, as moſt of the orders that were ſent home, were compleated as ſoon as the merchants there had received advice that our aſſembly had made ſuch ample proviſion for his Majeſty's troops in this province, and with which we are told the King, his miniſtry, and the nation in general, ſeem well pleaſed; and that had the news reached Great-Britain a month ſooner than it did, a certain act would not have received the Royal Aſſent.

Sir JOHN JOHNSON (ſon of Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, Bart.) and many other paſſengers, came over in the Edward.

Captain Miller ſpoke with the following veſſels, viz. Auguſt 2, in Lat. 39:28, Long. 25:40, with a ſhip from Leith for Maryland; September 5th, in Lat. 38, Long. 61, with a ſhip Weatherſtone, maſter, from Cape-Fear, bound for London; the 17th of the ſame month, in Lat. 39: 52, with a ſloop from Piſcataqua for the Weſt-Indies, who the day before had fell in with Captain Davies, from London, for this port (the ſame that ſailed in company with Captain Miller) the 23d, with a brig from Amboy for London, Duncan Maſter, two days out; and the ſame day with a ſhip from this port, for London.

Wedneſday afternoon arrived here Capt. White, in a brig, in 7 weeks from Liſbon: On the 21ſt of Auguſt laſt, in Lat. 28,

Long. 47, he fell in with the wreck of a brig, laden with lumber, both her main and foremaſt ſtanding; but every thing that was moveable appeared to have been carried off, even her pump-ſpars were out of the pumps: She had a horſe-head, painted black and white, ſome images and carved work on her ſtern, painted in the ſame manner; tarry ſides, and yellow mouldings, the rails and other places painted red: He imagined her to be a northern built veſſel, and ſeemed to have been ſome time under water.

In the night of the 12th inſtant, a labourer, named Lawrence Towrs, was murdered at a houſe in Hackinſack, New-Jerſey, by a Negroe man that lodged in the ſame houſe: He knocked out his brains firſt with the rung of a cart, and afterwards drove a ſmall plug of wood into one of his ears. The fellow was taken up next morning, and confeſſed the whole; and ſaid the reaſon he committed the murder was, that he formerly had lived at that houſe, and thought if he could diſpatch poor Towrs, he would get his old birth, which it ſeems he liked better than the one he then had: He is now in cloſe confinement.

PHILADELPHIA, October 1.

On Tueſday, the 22d ult. died at Cheſter, after a tedious Illneſs, PAUL JACKSON, Eſq; a Gentleman of great Learning, and acknowledged Abilities. He had a clear Underſtanding, ſound Judgment, and tenacious Memory, which he greatly improved by Reading, Obſervation and Study. He was, for ſome Time, Profeſſor of Greek and Latin in the College of this City, where he acquitted himſelf to the Honour of the Inſtitution, and Satisfaction of all concerned.---Finding his Health much impaired by Confinement and Study, he left the College; but that his Life might ſtill be ſpent uſefully, he entered into the Service of his Country; and taking the Command of a Company, marched, under General FORBES, to the Reduction of Fort Du Queſne. In this Expedition he behaved with ſuch Prudence, Fortitude and Bravery, as recommended him to the particular Notice of the General, and ſhewed him capable of making a Figure in a military Life. But his Love of Letters returning with his Health, at the End of the Campaign, he quitted the Service, and, as every Branch of Learning ſeemed within the Reach of his Capacity, betook himſelf to the Study of Phyſic. Having, by great Application, and by attending the Royal Hoſpital (at that Time the only medical School on the Continent) acquired a great Knowledge in the Theory and Practice both of Phyſic and Surgery, he ſettled at Cheſter; where being elected into the Office of Chief Burgeſs, he, for ſeveral Years, ſupported the Character of an upright Magiſtrate, as well as an able and ſucceſsful Phyſician.

He died in the Thirty-eighth Year of his Age; and, from the Specimens he gave of his Integrity and Abilities, both in public and private Life, his Death, at that early Period, is not only lamented by his Family, Friends and Acquaintance, but is juſtly deemed a Loſs to his Country, and to the Republic of Letters.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

Sunday laſt the Ship WALWORTH, Captain BOGGS, arrived here from Cork, by whom we have the following Advices.

HAMBURGH, June 29.

WE hear from Warſaw, that the Aſſembly at Radom is put off till the 22d of this month, in conſequence of repreſentations made by the Palatine of Kiovia. According to the ſame advices, the Staroſt of Otza, in Lithuania, ſupported by all the nobility of the diſtrict, has preſented a Manifeſto againſt the General Confederacy of the Dutchy, and expreſly againſt the Diſſidents.

Madrid, June 25. The Commiſſion appointed to demand certain eclairciſſements from the procurators of the different houſes of Jeſuits, having finiſhed that affair, thoſe fathers were conducted to Carthagena on the 18th at night, with ſeveral of their brethren, who, on the general departure of the Order, had been left behind, on account of their illneſs.

For ſeveral weeks paſt, we perceive that a briſker and more regular correſpondence is carried on between this Court and that of Portugal; and ſome circumſtances give room to believe, that meaſures are concerting in order to turn out the Jeſuits from the dominions of both crowns in America.

Naples, June 23. The Court has forbid the ſubaltern officers to ſend paſſports to ſuch Jeſuits as, not being the King's ſubjects, may want to come into this kingdom.

Civita Vecchia, June 27. The 200 Jeſuits lately arrived from Ferrol, have landed in Corſica. They belonged to the colleges of Biſcay, Galicia and Aſturias. The number of their brethren remaining in Spain, on account of ſickneſs or infirmities, does not exceed 90.

The work, he ſays, was at a ſtand for want of money to carry it on, and the French declining to riſk their property, one of the undertakers, a ſurgeon, came hither, perſuaded that the luſt of gain, which influences many of the Engliſh, might accompliſh in this country, what was impracticable in his own.

"Moſt holy father,

"Your holineſs is well perſuaded, that the firſt obligation of a Sovereign is to watch over the quiet preſervation of his dominions, and the good behaviour and interior peace of his ſubjects. To fulfil this duty, I have found myſelf under a preſſing neceſſity to reſolve on the immediate expulſion from my dominions, of all the Jeſuits who are eſtabliſhed in them, and to tranſport them into the dominions of the church, to be under the immediate, wiſe, and holy direction of your bleſſedneſs, the moſt worthy father and maſter of the faithful.

"It might be thought a want of due conſideration to burden the apoſtolic chamber, by obliging it to maintain theſe fathers, whoſe lot it has been to be born my ſubjects, if I had not, as I have done, made a preventive diſpoſition, to furniſh each perſon for life with a ſufficient ſalary to maintain him.

"On this ſuppoſition, I beſeech your holineſs, to regard this my reſolution, ſimply, as an indiſpenſible forecaſt and duty, taken up with previous mature examination, and profound meditation. In doing me this juſtice, your holineſs will aſſuredly ſend me your holy and apoſtolic benediction upon this, as I deſire you upon all my actions, directed in the ſame manner, to the great honour and glory of God.

Dal Real Parade, the 31ſt of March 1767."

ST. JOHN (in Antigua) Auguſt 12.

On Thurſday laſt we had very ſtormy weather, which threatened us with a hurricane. In the evening the wind and rain abated. We do not hear of any damage ſuſtained in this iſland; but by a veſſel ſince arrived from Grenada, we are informed that ſeveral veſſels were on ſhore at Guadaloupe and Dominica.

Auguſt 19. We hear from Dominica, that in the late gale of wind the 6th inſtant, the ſloop Kendall, Captain David Ferguſon, from South-Carolina, was drove from her anchors, and is now on ſhore: It is feared that both veſſel and cargoe will ſuffer greatly.---We do not hear of any other damage that iſland ſuſtained by the ſtorm.

ANNAPOLIS, September 24.

The PUBLIC are deſired to be very circumſpect in receiving the Maryland THREE POUND BILLS of Credit, as we hear Three Gentlemen, of eminent Abilities, one in Charles County, one in Virginia, and one in Frederick, have been forced to take Lodgings in Houſes of Security, in the above Places, and no Doubt have paſſed many of them; but which may nevertheleſs be eaſily diſcovered, as they are very ill executed.

BOSTON, September 28.

Laſt Wedneſday (after the moſt ſerene morning) came on about 9 o'clock in the evening, and continued for ſeveral hours, a more violent ſtorm of wind and rain, with ſome thunder and lightning, than has been known here for many years; which did ſome damage to the ſhipping and ſmall craft lying at the wharfs, and at anchor in the harbour. A brig was drove high aſhore on Dorcheſter neck, and ſeveral boats from the town, that had been out on parties of pleaſure, which could not reach the town before the ſtorm came on, were drove into Gallows Bay, and ſome of them ſtove to pieces. Several of the town fiſhing boats are yet miſſing, and 'tis fear'd are loſt.---------- Mr. Anthony Hadley, returning home to Stoneham from this town, whither he had been with a load of marketing, was belated, and by the fury of the tempeſt, added to the darkneſs of the night, loſt his way, and periſh'd on the road; and what is very remarkable, Mr. Hadley's ſon returning home from his work, miſs'd his way alſo, and met an untimely end in the horrors of that diſmal night; the father was 90 years of age, and has left a widow and three children, the ſon 52, and has left a widow alſo and eight children, to bemoan their unhappy fate. A gentleman and his lady, who had juſt landed on one of the wharfs from a boat that had been below, was, by the extreme darkneſs of the night, led to the edge of the wharff, and both fell into the water, and would probably have been drowned, had not ſome of the company immediately aſſiſted, and got them out. Capt. Skimmer from Briſtol, happily came to an anchor within the Light-houſe, about half an hour before the ſtorm came on, and notwithſtanding he had both his anchors out, was in great danger of being forced among the rocks: A perſon on board Capt. Skimmer the day preceding the ſtorm ſays, that from the maſt head he counted near 40 ſail of fiſhing boats, ſloops, ſchooners, &c. in the bay, and it is greatly feared ſome of them were ſwallowed up in the ſea, which ran prodigious high. We hear the ſtorm has done conſiderable damage in the country, by blowing down trees, fences, fruit, &c. In ſhort, the oldeſt ſeamen ſay, they never experienced a more terrible gale.

Since the above account went to the preſs, two gentlemen of this town, who were paſſengers on board a ſloop from the eaſtern parts of the province, came to town from Plymouth, where they happily got in the next day after the ſtorm, with about 30 others, and among them one of the town fiſhing-boats.

A ſmall ſchooner arrived here laſt evening from Plymouth, the maſter informs that on his paſſage he ſaw a number of veſſels aſhore, but could not tell who they were.

Extract of a Letter from London, July 11, 1767.

"The Bill reſpecting the Eaſt-India Company Dividend, paſſed the Lords with ſome Difficulty, but the Miniſtry is all afloat again; for Secretary CONWAY, about a Fortnight ago (in Conſequence of a Promiſe he made to the Devonſhire Family, when he came into Place, that he would keep it no longer than to the End of the Seſſion, unleſs their Friends were likewiſe taken in) declared his Intentions to reſign, and only holds his Office till a Succeſſor is appointed. This ſingle Circumſtance (like removing a Prop from an old Building) hath thrown the whole Miniſtry into Confuſion, and ever ſince they have been endeavouring to ſupport the preſent Fabrick with all their Might, in order to keep out thoſe who are greatly obnoxious to------from thruſting themſelves into Power. Many Conferences have been held, and various Propoſals offered.-----C-----s T-----d hath been tendered the Secretaryſhip, but he wants to be Firſt Lord of the Treaſury, and for this End he is paying great Court to Lord B----. Lord M-----d hath been offered the Preſidentſhip of the Council, in the Room of Lord N-----n, who is grown ſo very feeble, as to be utterly unfit for any Buſineſs, which he hath alſo refuſed, even tho', it is ſaid, an Earldom was to be added to it. Lord C-----m, ſtill continuing in a hopeleſs Way, his Place of Lord Privy Seal, hath been propoſed to the Duke of B------d, which he likewiſe declines.------The principal Difficulty with all theſe great Men is, the bringing in their Friends and Adherents, which cannot be complied with, without overturning the whole Fabrick; and yet they cannot in Honour accept, while they are left in the Lurch. This is the natural and unavoidable Conſequence of our Chiefs engaging themſelves in Faction, and of our Want of ſome ſteady and able Hand to keep them in Order, and bring them back to their Duty. Mr. CONWAY having behaved moſt unexceptionably in his Office, during the whole Seſſion, the King is extremely averſe to part with him, and hath had him ſeveral times in Conference with him, endeavouring to adjuſt Matters; and from the Length of the Negotiation (which hath laſted now for ten Days) I am hopeful they have a View of bringing Things to bear. This, as a Friend to my Country, without any partial Views reſpecting Individuals, I moſt ſincerely wiſh.---In the Eaſt-Indies, the Affairs of the Eaſt-India Company are in a moſt flouriſhing Condition.-----Prince FERDINAND hath lately obtained an additional Annuity of Two Thouſand Pounds, upon the Iriſh Eſtabliſhment (in all Four Thouſand Pounds) which he richly merits from this Country, for his able and ſucceſsful Conduct during the laſt War."

In another Letter of July 18, it is ſaid, That the Miniſtry remained ſtill quite unſettled----And that a great Perſonage had wrote a Letter, with his own Hand, to Lord C------m, deſiring his Advice; to which he returned a verbal Meſſage (for he could not write) that he was utterly incapable of thinking, or attending to any Buſineſs whatever.

LONDON, Auguſt 5.

THEY write from Paris, that General Paoli had ſolemnly engaged, on the evacuation of the French troops from the iſland of Corſica, to make no attempt towards diſpoſſeſſing the Genoeſe of any of their quarters, hitherto occupied by the ſaid troops for the ſervice of the Republic.

We hear orders are ſent down to the out-ports, for the workmen to be employed one tide extraordinary in each day, in fitting out ſome men of war and frigates, intended for immediate ſervice.

Auguſt 6. After the Levee yeſterday at St. James's, a Privy-Council was held, which ſat till paſt four o'clock; but no changes in the Adminiſtration have yet been declared.

We hear that the Right Hon. Henry Seymour Conway, Eſq; will continue Secretary of State for the Northern department.

It is currently reported, that the laſt diſpatches from the Court of Liſbon are not ſo ſatisfactory as could be wiſhed.

According to letters from Madrid, the Court of Spain is going to publiſh a memorial, ſetting forth the motives which induced his Catholic Majeſty to expel the Jeſuits from his dominions.

There is advice from Corſica, that Paoli has threatened the inhabitants of Bonifacio, that if they do not immediately repair to his army, he will ſeize all the lands and poſſeſſions belonging to them.

Auguſt 7. Yeſterday morning an expreſs was ſent from Mr. Secretary Conway's office, for his Excellency the Earl of Rochford at Paris.

A letter from Warſaw ſays, "During the preſent reign we have never before ſeen ſuch commotions as at this time; occaſioned by the four Confederacies in the kingdom, two of Diſſidents, and the others Malecontents. Though the motives and the objects of the former differ much from thoſe of the latter, they reciprocally ſupport each other, and for that purpoſe maintain a cloſe correſpondence. We foreſee that theſe Leagues will render the approaching Diet extremely turbulent, and more eſpecially when it is conſidered that the Malecontents require the authority granted to the departments of Treaſury and War to be greatly diminiſhed.

According to letters from Madrid, the Jeſuits from the Canaries and the Havannah were arrived at Cadiz, and it was ſaid 1500 of them would be immediately tranſported to the dominions of Modena, on condition that the penſions allowed them are regularly paid.

New-York, September 29, 1767.

To be peremptorily SOLD, at publick vendue, for either caſh or bills of exchange, on Thurſday, the 22d of October next, at 12 o'clock, at the Coffee-Houſe,

A VALUABLE 99 years LEASE of two very large lots and a half of College Ground, adjoining the North-River, near King's-College, New-York, being both center lots, and corner lots, and improved with a new ſubſtantial large well built brick houſe, very neat, with very great conveniences, and with three elegant fronts, elevated and ſituate on ſtreets and corner lots, in ſuch a regular delightful manner, that no future improvements will interupt either of its fronts, nor its beautiful proſpects.----The whole plan is truly modern, and is either a double or a ſingle houſe, extremely warm in winter, and exceeding cool in ſummer, and three ſtories high, beſides excellent dry cellars under the whole building, which, from two feet, is continued a brick and a half thick all round quite up to the wall plates: It is erected on the beſt and ſtrongeſt dimenſions, being 50 feet by 37 feet 4 inches, and is built with very extrraordinary ſtrong mortar, and with two ſorts of the ſtrongeſt and largeſt bricks, picked out at a great deal of trouble and expence: The roof is framed and dove-tailed together on the new model, for ſtrength and ſervice, by which method the whole weight of it reſts perpendicular on the walls, which cannot ſpread. The walls are likewiſe firmly braced together at every ſtory, by a late ingenious contrivance. Every part is done in the ſtrongeſt manner by the beſt workmen, all by the day, under a very induſtrious careful inſpection. The foundations are laid deep, two feet wide on clay and loam, ſpreading 14 feet wide, without-ſide the walls, and 16 feet within the walls, which ſtand exceeding firm and exact, proved by repeated ſurveys of each corner of the building, &c. and which alſo proves the foundations to be uncommonly ſolid. The college lots, particularly thoſe next the water, are very valuable, and on very eaſy ground rent, and the above two lots and a half are nearly as large as five lots of the ſame ground, conſequently they are but a trifle more than half the common ground rent, being in the outermoſt lines of the whole 182 feet, and 160 feet by 54 feet 10 inches, and 50 feet, excluſive of the ſtreets. They are alſo in the center of very promiſing improvements: The 99 years leaſe of the above lots, is worth a large eſtate, and it is eſteemed by a real experience to be as fine air, as pleaſant and healthy a ſituation as any in the world, and hath a ſpring of very excellent freſh water near the middle of the lots. On each ſide of the houſe is room for ſpacious gardens, &c. and the whole incloſed with a good and ſtrong fence.-----In making the above ſubſtantial large improvements, with levelling the lots, and levelling my part of the ſtreets, and making 77 feet of water fence, no pains nor expences were ſpared, for it was not any of it improved with the leaſt intentions of ſale. But ſome very material and very advantageous buſineſs, calls me to England, with my family, quite unexpectedly. The premiſes may be ſurveyed and viewed at any time to the day of ſale: For further particulars enquire of SAMUEL SPENCER SKINNER.

N. B. If any perſon have any demands againſt me, they are requeſted to call on me, living near the above premiſes for payment.

I hope this will be ſufficient to convince the public, that it is a folly for him to diſpute the payment of thoſe bonds.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

BERLIN, July 14.

THE Princeſs Wilhelmina of Pruſſia, will ſet out for Holland about the middle of September, and his Serene Highneſs, her intended ſpouſe, will go to meet her at Cleves, and their marriage will be celebrated at Loo.

Legborn, June 27. Advices from Capraia bring, that the Commiſſary which General Paoli had nominated there, was occupied in putting that fortreſs in a more defenſible condition than it was in whilſt ſubject to the Republic of Genoa, and for that purpoſe had ordered two new forts to be built at the entrance of the great Porte.

Warſaw, July 4. The General Confederacy of the Malecontents, which is formed at Radom, and has elected Prince Charles of Radzivil Marſhal General, ſent a Deputation to the King, to deſire his Majeſty to countenance their union. At the ſame time, Count Potocki was ſent to notify their union to the Empreſs of Ruſſia, and Count Oſſolinſki to the King of Pruſſia, on the ſame errand.

Florence, July 1. They write from Marciano, that on the 5th of laſt month, in the morning, the crew of a Barbary galliot attempted to make a deſcent on the iſland of Pianoſa; but ſeveral people, who were employed in cutting down timber, made ſo vigorous a reſiſtance, that the former were obliged to retire. In the afternoon they returned, on the other ſide of the iſland, and carried away ſix men.

Warſaw, July 11. The King's indiſpoſition for ſome days paſt, prevented his giving audience to the Deputies from the General Confederacy, which the Malecontents have formed at Radom.

Berlin, July 25. Yeſterday his Pruſſian Majeſty came from Potzdam to Charlottenburgh, where in the evening there was a drawing room on account of the marriage of the princeſs Louiſa Henrietta Wilhelmina, ſecond daughter of the Margrave Henry of Brandenburgh, with the reigning Prince of Anhalt Deſſau, which is to be ſolemnized this night at the ſame place.

Hague, July 31. The Prince of Orange arrived here on Wedneſday laſt in the afternoon, in perfect health. The next morning he was complimented by deputations from the States General, the ſtates of Holland, and all the other Colleges, upon the notification he had given of his marriage; and the rejoicings upon the occaſion continued two nights.

Geneva, July 10. The Citizens and Burghers having repeatedly invited the Council of Twenty-Five to enter into conferences for ſettling, in an amicable manner, the diviſions which prevail in the Republic, which invitation has always been refuſed, the Council being apprehenſive that the three mediating powers and guarantees might approve of this expedient, applied to the court of France, and to the Senates of Zurich and Berne, to deſire that they would give their deciſion relative to the differences in queſtion, and not withdraw their guaranty.

Yeſterday a Courier arrived from the Duke de Choiſeul, the ſubſtance of whoſe diſpatches may be reduced to theſe three points: Firſt, the two parties are exhorted to come to a reconciliation, and they are left at liberty to make new conſtitutions, which, however, France doth not engage to guaranty; 2dly, If the parties cannot come to an agreement, the mediating Powers ſhall pronounce their opinion, but ſhall not guaranty this deciſion; 3dly, If either of the parties ſhall refuſe to accept of this deciſion, France will have nothing more to do with the affairs of the Republic, and will likewiſe renounce their guaranty of the regulation made in 1738.

It is to be obſerved, that when this affair was debated the 6th inſtant, in the Aſſembly of Two Hundred, it was decided by a majority of votes, that the welfare of the Republic depended upon the deciſion of the three mediating Powers.

LONDON,

July 20. We are informed, that a noble Foreigner, lately arrived here, whoſe anceſtors were all natives of Ireland, hath lately ſent orders to that kingdom to have a ſtrict ſearch made to find out his poor relations, in order to provide for them; he being immenſely rich, and without iſſue.

July 22. This day her Majeſty the Queen of Denmark entered into the 17th year of her age.

July 24. Count de Guerchy has been great part of four years at the Court of Great-Britain; and it has been obſerved, that the three laſt years, ſoon after his departure to France to ſettle his family affairs, there has each time been a Change in the Britiſh Miniſtry.

Extract of a letter from Corte, June 20.

"For the better maintenance of union among the nation, there is going to be eſtabliſhed in this capital the Aſſembly, called at Genoa, the Aſſembly of Forty Families, which is to conſiſt of the moſt illuſtrious perſons, as appearing well calculated to give youth an advantageous education. Our nation alſo is labouring on the augmentation of its Marine, and hopes ſoon to be provided with a frigate, intended, with ſome other ſmall veſſels, to make continual cruizes againſt the Genoeſe: It hopes likewiſe ſoon to be provided with a galley, deſigned for the ſame object, and to carry over our Ladies, who, in the proper ſeaſon, may want to go and uſe the baths of Piſa and Lucca. Our Government left in the iſle of Capraia, a ſufficient garriſon, well provided with proviſions for a whole year."

Two perſons, formerly Ship-Builders at Briſtol, are ſaid to have lately been engaged, on handſome ſalaries, to enter into the Corſican ſervice.

July 27. It is thought a circumſtance well worth enquiry, to learn how the Bank of Scotland are enabled to divide Six per cent. whilſt that of England, in all appearance in the moſt flouriſhing ſtate imaginable, makes a dividend of only Five.

On the fourth of the enſuing month, the franchiſes, a trienial proceſſion of all the Freemen of Dublin, on horſeback, with drawn ſwords, magnificent furniture, and elegant dreſſes, are to be rode, which is looked upon as the grandeſt ſight in Europe.

It is a matter of very ſerious and melancholy obſervation, that there never was a time (except where perſons could be arreſted for debts under forty ſhillings) wherein ſo many writs were iſſued out from the ſeveral offices, as at preſent.

It is ſaid orders were laſt week given for all Britiſh Ambaſſadors and Miniſters, appointed to foreign Courts, to ſet out for their reſpective ambaſſies, &c. in a month at fartheſt.

An ingenious Watch-maker, near Temple-Bar, is finiſhing two fine gold watches, the dial plates of which are no larger than a quarter guinea.---It is ſaid they are to be ſent to the Eaſt Indies.

They write from Gibraltar, that two large tranſports, laden with naval ſtores, from the Baltick, were juſt arrived there, on their way to Fornali, on the Gulph of St. Fiorenzo, for the uſe of the Corſican fleet.

We hear from Dublin, that one Hannah Bourk, the wife of a Tanner, was ſuddenly ſeized with a fit of ſomnolency, in which ſhe continued from Wedneſday evening to the next Tueſday following at noon, during which time ſhe remained utterly inſenſible to all external applications, though ſome were made even with a hot iron.

By the Lord Hyde Packet, Captain Goddard, arrived at New-York from Falmouth; and the Ship Mary and Elizabeth, Captain Sparks, arrived here from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

LONDON, Auguſt 1.

THE viſit of a foreign Princeſs to this country, is conjectured, by many people, to be of a more important nature than a tour of intire curioſity.

They write from Liſbon, that a courier had juſt arrived there with ſome diſpatches of importance from Madrid, on which account orders had been given for the immediate ſailing of the Portugueſe ſquadron, but the place of its deſtination continued to be variouſly talked of.

Some accounts from Leghorn mention, that the Court of Verſailles had demanded a double ſubſidy of the Genoeſe Republic, for continuing the French auxiliary troops in Corſica, which it was thought the deſperate ſituation of their affairs in that iſland, together with the late loſs of Capraia, would oblige them to grant.

By a letter from Lyons, we are told, that there are no leſs than 1500 Engliſh Weavers at the looms of that city.

We hear that Sir James Gray is to make ſome ſtay at Paris, before he proceeds to the Court of Madrid.

A Corſican Agent, furniſhed with Bills of Exchange to the amount of one million of guilders, was arrived at Amſterdam when the laſt letters came away; an extraordinary reſpect was ſhewn him by the Merchants.

Auguſt 3. It is ſaid that the freedom of the city of London will, at the next Court of Common Council, be voted to the Marquis of Rockingham.

Auguſt 4. A letter from Scotland ſays, that almoſt every county there is, at preſent, bent on electioneering madneſs, prior to their annual Michaelmas Head-Court, to be held next month, when the electors having power to vote at the general election, are inrolled in terms of the act of parliament.

Auguſt 5. They write from Leghorn, that a Corſican armed pink having been attacked by two Barbary Xebecks in the Mediterranean, had ſunk one of them, and obliged her conſort to take ſhelter under the cannon of a fort in the iſland of Scio.

We hear orders are ſent down to the out-ports for the workmen to be employed one tide extraordinary in each day, in fitting out ſome men of war and frigates, intended for immediate ſervice.

They write from Malaga, the 12th ult. that the Tangier rowboats had taken and carried in a Dutch Dogger with corn, from Holland for Genoa, and an Engliſh ſhip with proviſions from Ireland; but that the latter was releaſed.

Auguſt 6. We hear, that during a late conference between a great perſonage, juſt arrived from abroad, and another greater at home, the latter had the condeſcenſion to ſtand the whole time, out of pure complaiſance to his viſitant, who, according to the rules of ceremony, could not ſit in his preſence.

During the late negotiation for a change in the miniſtry, a Worceſterſhire gentleman, eminent for his ſkill in finance, was ſent for by a noble Marquis to town; and his admiſſion made, it is ſaid, one of the indiſpenſible articles towards forming a new adminiſtration.

A few nights ago, we hear, the following queſtion was debated at a certain tavern at the weſt end of the town: "Who is the greater man, Lord Chatham, or Lord Clive?" After a great deal of argumentation, pro and con, it was thus determined by the majority of the company; they both have been ſucceſsful in all their undertakings, the one in the cabinet, and the other in the field, in which different departments they have both ſo remarkably diſtinguiſhed themſelves, that it is difficult to determine who is the greater man.

By a gentleman arrived from France we hear, that the French are in great concern, on account of the ſhilling in a pound duty being taken off of tea in England.

Though no changes in the adminiſtration were declared yeſterday, yet it is currently reported that the following are fixed, and will very ſoon take place, viz. Lord Egmont, Preſident of the Council, in the room of Lord Northington, who will retire with a penſion of 2000 l. per ann. The Right Hon. Mr. Conway to ſucceed Lord Townſend (who goes to Ireland) as Maſter of the Ordnance, and to continue Secretary of State ſome time longer. The Earl of Briſtol to be Lord Privy Seal, and Lord Chatham to retire with 3000 l. per ann. penſion.

Auguſt 7. Yeſterday the Duke of Buccleugh was at the Levee, and it is ſaid his Grace was honoured with one of the vacant green ribbons.

Auguſt 8. The three vacant green ribbons, we are informed, are to be given to the Duke of Gordon, the Earl of Strathmore, and the Earl of Carliſle. The two firſt, it is ſaid, will be elected two of the 16 Peers, who repreſent the Scotch Peerage in Parliament.

Wedneſday's letters from Cornwall ſay, that higher prices have already been offered to the electors of the Corniſh boroughs for ſeats in parliament, at the next general election, than have been known for near forty years paſt.

We hear that his Majeſty has ordered his picture in miniature to be ſet in diamonds, in order to its being preſented to the Count de Guerchy. The Royal picture is actually in the hands of one of his Majeſty's jewellers, to be properly ornamented; and ſo ſoon as finiſhed, will be ſent after the Count to Paris.

It is ſaid Mr. De Grey, Attorney General, is to have the Lord Chancellorſhip of Ireland. It was tendered to the Hon. Mr. Charles Yorke, who declined accepting it.

The appointment of Lord Viſcount Townſhend, elder brother of the Right Hon. Charles Townſhend, to the important poſt of Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, is not a temporary nomination; and it is thought to be a circumſtance that will prove highly agreeable to the Iriſh in general, his Lordſhip having evinced himſelf, on ſeveral occaſions, to be an able Statesman, a good Soldier, a convictive Orator, an excellent Writer, a diſtinguiſhed Patriot, and (of all the moſt valuable) an honeſt Man.

Letters by yeſterday's French mail ſay, that wheat is riſen there from 42 s. to 58 s. per quarter, and that they have had ſuch heavy rains, that they were in great dread of a bad harveſt, and being in want of grain; that the populace began to be outrageous at the exportation of corn, inſomuch that no perſon durſt preſume to ſpeak of exporting any more; the weather has now changed, and ſeems more favourable, which alleviates their dreadful apprehenſions of being in the utmoſt diſtreſs.

The cargoes of the ſeveral ſhips which have arrived in the river within a fortnight paſt with foreign corn, amount to 20,390 quarters of wheat, beſides a great quantity of other grain.

Letters from Vienna adviſe, that there was much talk there of a claim ſet up by France on the Empreſs Queen, upon account of the late war; but that, in order to preſerve the union that happily ſubſiſts between the two powers, an equivalent had been propoſed, which makes the ſubject of a negotiation now carrying on between thoſe two courts.

Some letters from Liſbon ſay, that there is to be a public Auto de Fe there ſome time in September next, when ſome Jeſuits, priſoners from the Azores, accuſed of crimes againſt religion, were expected to undergo the fate of the late Father Malagreda.

Auguſt 10. Friday, Mr. Secretary Conway was appointed Lieutenant General of the Ordnance.

Friday his Excellency the Ambaſſador from the States General had a long conference with his Majeſty's Secretaries of State.

Auguſt 11. Yeſterday Monſieur Durand, who is charged with the affairs of the French court, in the abſence of the Count de Guerchy, had a long conference with the Right Hon. the Earl of Shelburne, on the ſubject of ſome diſpatches received from his court.

Letters received at Liſbon, from the Bay of All Saints, mention, that eleven men of war of the line, and nine frigates, were building, and in ſuch forwardneſs, that ſome would be ready to ſail for Europe by the return of the next flota.

They write from Leghorn, that the Santa Familia, a Genoeſe ſettee, has been taken on her return from Smyrna, with a valuable cargo, by a Barbary pirate, and carried into one of the iſles of the Archipelago.

Auguſt 12. This being the Birth-Day of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, who enters into the 5th year of his age, the morning will be uſhered in with ringing of bells. At noon the park and tower guns will be fired; and being levee day at St. James's, his Majeſty will receive the compliments of the nobility, &c. on that occaſion, as will her Majeſty at her palace, and her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales at Carleton houſe; and the evening will be concluded with a grand concert at the Queen's houſe.

The Earl of March and Rugen is to be Vice Admiral of Scotland, in the room of Lord Hyndford, deceaſed.

By a letter from on board his Majeſty's ſloop the Carcaſs, at Port Egmont, in the iſland of Faulkland, in the South Seas, in the lat. of 51: 30 ſouth, about 100 leagues to the northward of Cape-Horn, we learn, that iſland is about 150 miles long, and has not one tree of any kind, nor any beaſts but foxes. That there are ſea-lions in great plenty, two or three times as big as cart-horſes in England, which, when killed, produce very good oil, which is burnt in the room of candles. That there are wild geeſe in great plenty, and very good, with all kinds of wild fowl, and great plenty of fine fiſh. That in the egg ſeaſon they gather upwards of 2000 per day, and they are ſerved out at ten a man per day; each egg weighs nine ounces. The French have a very delightful harbour to the eaſtward of the iſland, about 35 leagues; they have about 50 houſes, and about 200 men, beſides women and children.

The moſt ſanguine hopes are now entertained by the merchants concerned in the Portugal trade, that Mr. Lyttleton's commiſſion to his Moſt Faithful Majeſty, will ſpeedily be attended with many and great commercial advantages to the Britiſh factories at Liſbon and Oporto.

Letters from Genoa adviſe, that the procedure of the Court of Verſailles, in recalling great part of their auxiliary troops from Corſica, had ſtruck the Senate with great conſternation, and they had reſolved to ſend over General Mattra with a body of Republican troops to occupy their place.

Letters from Breſt inform, that advice had juſt been received, that the Spaniards had forced all the French inhabitants to quit the city and iſland of New Orleans, and even diſcharged all Officers of that nation from his Catholic Majeſty's ſervice.

Yeſterday the price of wheat fell two ſhillings per quarter in Mark-lane.

Extract of a letter from Calais, Auguſt 6.

"His Excellency the Earl of Rochford, who left Compeigne on Sunday laſt, in order to go over to England for a few days, on his own private affairs, has, nevertheleſs, been ſo vigilant as to take Dunkirk on his way, and yeſterday his lordſhip truſted to his own eyes, inſtead of the reports of others, how matters ſtand at that ſeaport."

This day the Right Hon. Lord Townſend will have the honour to kiſs his Majeſty's hand, on his being appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

We hear this day the Right Hon. Richard Andrews, Eſq; one of the Privy Council in Ireland, and Provoſt of Trinity College, Dublin, will have the honour to kiſs his Majeſty's hand, on his being appointed Lord Chancellor of that kingdom.

We alſo hear the Right Hon. Richard Andrews, Eſq; will be created a Peer of Ireland.

The Lords of the Admiralty have been pleaſed to appoint Robert Achmuty, Eſq; to be Judge of the Vice-Admiralties of Maſſachuſetts-Bay and New-Hampſhire, in the room of Chambers Ruſſell, Eſq; deceaſed.

ST. JOHN (in Antigua) September 23.

The ſhip Charming Nelly, William Breckenridge, maſter, from Antigua for Montſerrat and Glaſgow, was forced from her anchors the 11th inſtant off Montſerrat, and drove among the rocks; the cargo and part of the rigging is ſaved, but the ſhip is ſtranded.

Laſt Monday evening arrived here, in a very diſtreſſed condition, under jury maſts, the ſhip Nelly and Hannah, Zachariah Norman, from London for this Iſland, having on the 8th inſt. in lat. 19 N. and long. 48 W. from London, met with a terrible hurricane, in which they were obliged (for their preſervation) to cut away the main and mizen maſts, the ſhip broaching to, and lying on her beam ends; the fall of the main maſt, by their not being able to clear the main-top-maſt-ſtay, got foul of the fore-maſt, by which means it give way under the hounds, and only left the ſtump ſtanding, which with the fore yards (it being lowered down to eaſe the ſhip) was all that was ſaved. This diſmal ſtorm began at E. N. E. from that to E. S. E. and round to N. N. E. from which laſt point it was moſt violent, and ended at W. N. W. after continuing 16 hours from the beginning.

Yeſterday the annual Commencement of the College of New-Jerſey, was held in this Town, in the uſual Manner, when the following young Gentlemen were admitted to the Degree of Batchelor of Arts; Francis Barber, Samuel Cunningham, Francis Curtis, Richard Devans, Jacob Haſbrouck, Elias Jones, Nathaniel Ramſey, William Schenck, Samuel Stockton, Joſias Stoddard, and Hugh Vance. And ſeveral young Gentlemen were admitted to the Degree of Maſter of Arts.

The Truſtees, ſenſible of the many Advantages ariſing from the Conſtitution of a Faculty conſiſting of learned Profeſſors in the ſeveral Branches of Science, choſe the following Gentlemen for this Purpoſe; the Rev. Mr. Samuel Blair, of Boſton, Preſident and Profeſſor of Rhetoric and Metaphyſicks: The Rev. Mr. John Blair, of Fogg's Manor, Pennſylvania, Profeſſor of Divinity and moral Philoſophy; Doctor Hugh Williamſon, of Philadelphia, Profeſſor of Mathematicks and natural Philoſophy; and Mr. Jonathan Edwards, Profeſſor of Languages and Logick. Theſe are all the Profeſſors that the low State of the College Funds will admit of at preſent, but it is propoſed to increaſe their Number as ſoon as their Finances ſhall enable the Truſtees to ſupport them. And it is to be hoped that ſo judicious an Appointment will, with the Divine Bleſſing, increaſe the Utility of this important Inſtitution, and render it a ſtill more extenſive Bleſſing to Mankind.

PHILADELPHIA, October 15.

Since our laſt came to hand the Gentleman's Magazine for July, 1767, in which there is a Liſt of Books, with Remarks, and among others, Dr. FRANKLIN's Examination in the Houſe of Commons, relative to the Repeal of the American Stamp-Act, on which there is the following Remark, viz.

FROM this Examination of Dr. Franklin, the Reader may form a clearer and more comprehenſive Idea of the State and Diſpoſition of America, of the Expediency or Inexpediency of the Meaſure in Queſtion, and of the Character and Conduct of the Miniſter who propoſed it, than from all that has been written upon the Subject in News Papers and Pamphlets, under the Titles of Eſſays, Letters, Speeches, and Conſiderations, from the firſt Moment of its becoming the Object of public Attention till now.

"The Queſtions in general are put with great Subtilty and Judgment, and they are anſwered with ſuch deep and familiar Knowledge of the Subject, ſuch Preciſion and Perſpicuity, ſuch Temper, and yet ſuch Spirit, as do the greateſt Honour to Dr. Franklin, and juſtify the general Opinion of his Character and Abilities."

Extract of a Letter from London, October 8, 1767.

"I am very glad to find the People of New-York have provided, by an Act of Aſſembly, for the Subſiſtence of the Military in their Province, as the Law made here directs; and I hope all Heart-burnings, between the Colonies and Britain, will now gradually ſubſide. It can never be good Policy, in any future Miniſtry, to promote any Meaſure whatever wilfully to diſtreſs them; they cannot, at leaſt for a great While to come, ſubſiſt without the Protection of this Country; and, in ſhort, our mutual Proſperity muſt conſiſt in our Union, and in our cordial Attachment to each other.

"The Reports of the Minute are, by ſome, that the Miniſtry will remain pretty much as it is; that Mr. Conway thinks he has done enough, in Honour, to fulfil his Engagements to his Friends, and will ſtill keep his Place; but that Lord Sh-----ne will be removed. Others ſay, that the following Changes will ſoon take Place, viz. Lord Townſend, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in the Room of Lord Briſtol; Mr. Conway, Maſter of the Ordnance, in the Room of Lord Townſend; Mr. Charles Townſend, Secretary of State, in the Room of Mr. Conway; Lord North, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the Room of Mr. Townſend; and Lord Egmont, Preſident of the Council, in the Room of Lord Northington, who retires on his Penſion."

Extract of another Letter from London, dated Auguſt 6, 1767.

"The general Affairs of America here, bear a very diſagreeable Aſpect; the preſent Miniſtry are like to continue ſome Time longer---ſome particular Changes will happen, and I fear the principal Structure will not be of long Duration, but probably there will be another Seſſion of Parliament before a conſiderable Alteration is made.----The Oppoſition to America ſeems to increaſe. Every Step is taken to render the Taxation of the Colonies a popular Meaſure, and it is contended that they ſhould be obliged explicitly to acknowledge that Right. I know not what to adviſe on this Occaſion, but that the Friends of America, on both Sides the Water, ſhould exert their utmoſt Endeavours to leſſen the preſent Unpopularity of the American Cauſe; conciliate the Affections of the People here towards you, increaſe by all poſſible Means the Number of your Friends, and be careful not to weaken their Hands, and ſtrengthen thoſe of your Enemies, by raſh Proceedings, the Miſchiefs of which are inconceivable."

Extract of a Letter from a Merchant in London, Auguſt 7, 1767.

"It is truly melancholy to reflect on the preſent State of public Affairs here:---The Confuſion among our great Men ſtill continues---who, inſtead of exerting their Abilities in this Time of Peace with foreign Powers, to extend the Commerce of the Kingdom, pay off the National Debt, and increaſe the Strength and Power of the Nation to ſupport a future War, are waſting their whole Time in Party Contentions, Intrigues, and Cabals, to eſtabliſh their own Power, and the Profit attending it; and in abuſing one another.

Extract of another Letter from London, dated Auguſt 7, 1767.

"A late Attempt to coaleſce the different Parties in a new Miniſtry, has proved ineffectual----and it ſeems probable, that the preſent Sett will continue ſome time longer---This ſeems not unfortunate for America, as ſome of them who were propoſed to come in, were profeſſed Adverſaries of America.---The prevailing Diſtinction of Parties here, is, thoſe who in the two laſt Seſſions of Parliament, have been diſpoſed to favour America, are called by their Opponents (by Way of Reproach) AMERICANS! while the Adherents to G-----le and B-----d, boaſt of their being true to the Intereſt of Britain, and zealous for maintaining its Sovereignty over the Colonies---This Declaration ſeems every Day to be more and more fixt; and it is much to be feared will be carried higher, in the next Seſſion of Parliament, for the political Purpoſes of influencing the enſuing Election.---It is already ſaid, that the Act for Quartering the Soldiers at New-York, without taking Notice of its being done in Obedience to the Act of Parliament, is evaſive and unſatisfactory; that it is high Time to put the Right of taxing America out of Diſpute, by an Act of Taxation, effectually carried into Execution, &c. &c."

Our other Advices, by the Packet, in general, are, that the Gentlemen in the Oppoſition to the preſent Miniſtry, have had ſeveral Meetings relating to the Arrangement of a new Adminiſtration: That the Dukes of Bedford and New-Caſtle, Lord Temple, and Mr. Grenville, had declared they wanted no Places for themſelves, but hoped their Friends would not be forgot: That Mr. Grenville had promiſed to ſupport the new Adminiſtration, provided the Dependance of the Colonies was aſſerted and maintained: That Lord Rockingham was propoſed to be at the Head of the Treaſury, and Mr. Dowdeſwell Chancellor of the Exchequer, which was agreed to; but that ſome of the Company being for the continuing Mr. Conway Secretary of State, and others againſt it, theſe Meetings broke up, without concluding any thing.

Since our laſt the Brig Ann, Captain Albro, arrived here in 4 Weeks from the Bay of Honduras; with whom came Paſſenger Captain Stewart, late of a Sloop, belonging to this Port, whoſe Veſſel, in coming out of the Bay, was caſt away on Glover's Reef, and, together with the Cargoe, entirely loſt; the People ſaved. Willis, from Glaſgow for Virginia, out 4 Weeks, all well.

Abſtract of an ACT, to enable his Majeſty to put the Cuſtoms, and other Duties, in the Britiſh Dominions in America, and the Execution of the Laws relating to trade there, under the Management of Commiſſioners to be appointed for that Purpoſe, and to be reſident in the ſaid Dominions.

AS the officers, appointed for the collection of the rates and duties in America, are obliged, by 25 Car. II. to apply to the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms in England, for their ſpecial inſtructions and directions, upon every particular doubt and difficulty which ariſes, in relation to the payment of the ſaid rates and duties; whereby all perſons, concerned in the commerce and trade of the ſaid Colonies and Plantations, are greatly obſtructed and delayed, in the carrying on and tranſacting of their buſineſs: And as the appointing of Commiſſioners to be reſident in ſome convenient part of his Majeſty's dominions of America, and to be inveſted with ſuch powers as are now exerciſed by the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms in England, by virtue of the laws in being, would relieve the ſaid merchants and traders from the ſaid inconveniencies, and tend to the encouragement of commerce, and to the better ſecuring of the ſaid rates and duties, by the more ſpeedy and effectual collection thereof:

It is therefore hereby enacted, that his Majeſty be authoriſed to put the Cuſtoms, and other duties, in the Britiſh Colonies in America, under the management of Commiſſioners to be reſident there, with the ſame powers for carrying into execution the laws relating to the revenues and trade of the ſaid Colonies, as are exerciſed by the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms in England: The Crown alſo is empowered, in ſuch Commiſſions, to make proviſion for the execution of the ſaid laws there.

All deputations and other authorities, granted by the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms of England before the paſſing of this Act, or granted before any Commiſſion ſhall iſſue in purſuance of this Act, are to be in force there, till revoked by the Treaſury.

Abſtract of an ACT, for reſtraining and prohibiting the Governor, Council, and Houſe of Repreſentatives, of the Province of New-York, until Proviſion ſhall have been made for furniſhing the King's Troops with all the Neceſſaries required by Law, from paſſing or aſſenting to any Act, Vote or Reſolution, for any other Purpoſe.

THE preamble to this act ſets forth, That the province of New-York having, in direct diſobedience of the authority of the Britiſh Legiſlature, by the acts of 5, 6, and 7 Geo. III. refuſed to make proviſion for the neceſſaries required by thoſe acts, it is, therefore, hereby enacted,

That from and after the firſt day of October, 1767, the Governor and Council of New York are prohibited to paſs or aſſent to any act of Aſſembly, or any vote or reſolution of the Houſe of Repreſentatives; and the ſaid Houſe, likewiſe, prohibited to paſs, or make, any vote or reſolution, except for adjournment, until proviſion be made by them, for furniſhing the King's troops with all the neceſſaries required by the recited acts; and all acts of Aſſembly, &c. contrary to the tenor hereof, after October 1, 1767, are declared void, except as to the choice and approbation of a Speaker of the Houſe.

By AUTHORITY,

By the AMERICAN COMPANY,

At the new THEATRE, in SOUTHWARK, To-morrow Evening, being Friday, the 16th of October, will be preſented,

To begin exactly at Six o' Clock.

Philadelphia, September 26, 1767.

FRANCIS WADE,

In Second-ſtreet, between Market and Cheſtnut-ſtreets, takes this method to acquaint his friends and cuſtomers, that he is now determined to ſell off all his ſtock of dry goods on hand, under prime coſt for caſh only, conſiſting of

A VARIETY of freſh imported goods, ſuitable for the ſeaſon: And as he is fully determined to decline the dry goods buſineſs, ſuch as ſtand indebted to him by bond, note or book debt, are deſired to take notice, that unleſs they come and diſcharge the ſame before the 20th of November next, all accounts, bonds, notes, and book debts, upwards of Five Pounds, that remain due after that time, will be put into the hands of a lawyer, without further notice; and ſuch debts as are under that ſum, will be recovered in the cuſtomary way, as he will be under an abſolute neceſſity of recovering his debts in the moſt ſpeedy manner, ſo as to enable him to bring his affairs to a final concluſion, on account of his going into another branch of buſineſs; for which purpoſe he has taken that commodious brew-houſe, wharff, &c. next to Hamilton's wharff, near the Draw-bridge, in Water-ſtreet, where he intends carrying on the brewing buſineſs in all its branches, having engaged a compleat brewer and maltſter from Europe for that purpoſe; ſo that he flatters himſelf he will be able to ſupply ſuch of his friends and cuſtomers, both in town and country, as are pleaſed to favour him with their cuſtom, with as good beer of all ſorts as is commonly brewed in this city by any other perſon whatſoever; it being his determined reſolution to give a general ſatisfaction; and as his wharff is ſo handy to ſupply ſhipping and ſhallops, ſuch as are in that way, may depend on being ſupplied with the beſt beer for ſhips uſe. He expects to have beer in readineſs in leſs than three weeks from the above date, and is now in immediate want of a parcel of barley, malt and hops. Any perſon that has any of theſe articles to diſpoſe of, may depend on getting the higheſt prices going, by applying to ſaid Wade. And as he is now more conveniently ſituated to ſerve the cuſtomers of Wade and Hemphill's ſtore in Wilmington, by diſpoſing of ſuch produce as they are pleaſed to ſend by our ſhallop, to the beſt advantage, our former cuſtomers in that way may depend on a faithful diſcharge of the truſt repoſed in us. The ſtore in Wilmington will be continued as uſual, with a conſtant ſupply of goods; and the ſhallop kept going as uſual from Wilmington to Philadelphia; when at the latter, it is to be found by applying to ſaid Wade, at the wharff abovementioned, and will take any ſort of goods or paſſengers, from thence to Wilmington as uſual.

N. B. Said Wade has a ſervant girl's time to diſpoſe of, that has about two years to ſerve, and will be very ſuitable for the country, Her time will be diſpoſed of on very low terms.

FIFTY DOLLARS Reward.

And whereas the ſaid Vandyke hired ſaid Veſſel with a fraudulent Deſign, as appears from his immediately going to Sea, without touching at Indian River, and divers other Circumſtances, and it is ſuppoſed is gone to Virginia, Carolina, New-Jerſey, or ſome of the Weſt-India Iſlands. Theſe are to requeſt and authoriſe all Perſons, whereſoever the ſaid Vandyke ſhall be found, in my Name, and for my Uſe, to take Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Schooner, and him the ſaid Francis Vandyke to ſecure, according to Law, until he ſhall meet the Juſtice due to his Demerits. And whoever ſhall inform the Subſcriber where the ſaid Vandyke, or the Schooner, is to be found, ſhall be handſomely rewarded; and for ſecuring the Schooner, and ſaid Vandyke in any of his Majeſty's Dominions, ſo that the Owner may recover his Property, ſhall be paid the above Reward, by JOSHUA FISHER, and SONS, in Philadelphia, or the Subſcriber, JOSEPH HOLLIDAY. ¶

New-York, September 29, 1767.

To be peremptorily SOLD, at publick vendue, for either caſh or bills of exchange, on Thurſday, the 22d of October next, at 12 o'clock, at the Coffee-Houſe,

A VALUABLE 99 years LEASE of two very large lots and a half of College Ground, adjoining the North-River, near King's-College, New-York, being both center lots, and corner lots, and improved with a new ſubſtantial large well built brick houſe, very neat, with very great conveniences, and with three elegant fronts, elevated and ſituate on ſtreets and corner lots, in ſuch a regular delightful manner, that no future improvements will interupt either of its fronts, nor its beautiful proſpects.----The whole plan is truly modern, and is either a double or a ſingle houſe, extremely warm in winter, and exceeding cool in ſummer, and three ſtories high, beſides excellent dry cellars under the whole building, which, from two feet, is continued a brick and a half thick all round quite up to the wall plates: It is erected on the beſt and ſtrongeſt dimenſions, being 50 feet by 37 feet 4 inches, and is built with very extraordinary ſtrong mortar, and with two ſorts of the ſtrongeſt and largeſt bricks, picked out at a great deal of trouble and expence: The roof is framed and dove-tailed together on the new model, for ſtrength and ſervice, by which method the whole weight of it reſts perpendicular on the walls, which cannot ſpread. The walls are likewiſe firmly braced together at every ſtory, by a late ingenious contrivance. Every part is done in the ſtrongeſt manner by the beſt workmen, all by the day, under a very induſtrious careful inſpection. The foundations are laid deep, two feet wide on clay and loam, ſpreading 14 feet wide, without-ſide the walls, and 16 feet within the walls, which ſtand exceeding firm and exact, proved by repeated ſurveys of each corner of the building, &c. and which alſo proves the foundations to be uncommonly ſolid. The college lots, particularly thoſe next the water, are very valuable, and on very eaſy ground rent, and the above two lots and a half are nearly as large as five lots of the ſame ground, conſequently they are but a trifle more than half the common ground rent, being in the outermoſt lines of the whole 182 feet, and 160 feet by 54 feet 10 inches, and 50 feet, excluſive of the ſtreets. They are alſo in the center of very promiſing improvements: The 99 years leaſe of the above lots, is worth a large eſtate, and it is eſteemed by a real experience to be as fine air, as pleaſant and healthy a ſituation as any in the world, and hath a ſpring of very excellent freſh water near the middle of the lots. On each ſide of the houſe is room for ſpacious gardens, &c. and the whole incloſed with a good and ſtrong fence.-----In making the above ſubſtantial large improvements, with levelling the lots, and levelling my part of the ſtreets, and making 77 feet of water fence, no pains nor expences were ſpared, for it was not any of it improved with the leaſt intentions of ſale. But ſome very material and very advantageous buſineſs, calls me to England, with my family, quite unexpectedly. The premiſes may be ſurveyed and viewed at any time to the day of ſale: For further particulars enquire of SAMUEL SPENCER SKINNER.

N. B. If any perſon have any demands againſt me, they are requeſted to call on me, living near the above premiſes for payment.

 A large and compleat ſett of ſtills and worms, and all other utenſils for diſtilling of rum and cordials, quite new, and imported on the beſt terms with ready money, will be ſold at prime coſt, after ſelling the above: Alſo a quantity of very old rum and cordials in hogſheads and barrels, with anniſeeds and other ſeeds for cordials, and juniper-berries, all in quantities: ---Likewiſe,----A new one horſe chair, being a very beautiful genteel new pattern, with a handſome convenient fore-ſeat, and an excellent chair horſe, young and ſtrong.

PHILADELPHIA: Printed by DAVID HALL, and WILLIAM SELLERS, at the NEW PRINTING-OFFICE, near the Market.

October 22, 1767. NUMB. 2026.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

Philadelphia County, October 8, 1767.

To the PRINTERS of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

GENTLEMEN,

IN your Paper, No. 2017, an ingenious Gentleman, who ſigns himſelf T. T. has favoured the Public with Remarks upon that celebrated Saying of the famous SYRACUSEAN GEOMETRICIAN, Give me a Place to ſtand on, and I will move the Earth.----When theſe Remarks appeared, I was engaged in Matters that would not allow me to pay that Attention to them which they deſerved.---The Juſtice, however, due to ARCHIMEDES, and the Reſpect I bear for that truly great Man's Memory, oblige me now (though late) to offer my Sentiments upon this intereſting Subject.

I readily agree with your ſenſible Correſpondent, as to the Concluſion he has drawn from the Principles whereon he ſeems to have founded his Calculation, without being at the Trouble to examine his Numbers.----All that I propoſe is, to place this grand Mechanical Problem in another Light, wherein it will appear much more feaſible.

If a Ball of Earth, weighing 200 Pounds, was left at Liberty near the Surface of this Globe, it would deſcend, by its own Gravity, about 15 Feet in one Second of Time, and about 20 Miles in 80 Seconds: And if, as this Gentleman ſuppoſes, there are about 2000,000,000,000,000,000,000 ſuch Balls in the whole Earth, the Earth, by their mutual Attraction, in 80 Seconds of Time, will move toward the Ball $\frac{1}{1736000000000000}$ of an Inch; and if the ſame Force was to act continually for 105 Years, it would move about one Inch.------Therefore the Force wherewith a Man acts, when he lifts a Weight of 200 Pounds, if applied without Intermiſſion for the Space of 105 Years, is ſufficient, without the Aſſiſtance of any Machinery, to move the Earth one Inch in that Time *; and it muſt, from the Velocity received by that Force alone, continue for ever after to move at the Rate of one Inch in about 50 Years.

A MECHANIC.

* Mr. T. T. proceeding on a different Suppoſition, has computed 27,060,000,000,000 Years neceſſary for that Purpoſe.

LEGHORN, June 18.

THE crew of a Malteſe tartan are juſt arrived here, who had fled and abandoned their veſſel, which was chaced by a Barbary galliot, and taken. We learn that a Barbary corſair hath alſo taken a Neapolitan felucca, laden with Merchandiſe for this port.

Stockholm, July 17. The Baron d'Unruhe, deputy of the Confederacy of Diſſidents in Poland, had, on the 12*th inſtant, at Drotningholm, a private audience of the King, to whom he preſented a letter written by the Confederates to his Majeſty, wherein, after rendering him moſt humble thanks for having employed his good offices for re-obtaining them the enjoyment of their rights, they implore the continuation of his kindneſs to them.*

Warſaw, July 18. We have juſt learnt, that the opening of the Dyetines both in Lithuania and Poland, will take place the 24*th of next Auguſt, and that the General Dyetine of Pruſſia-Royal is fixed for the* 7*th of September following.*

Cadiz, July 3. According to advices from Tetuan, Don George Juan, Ambaſſador from Spain to the Emperor of Morocco, hath preſented to that Prince, beſides ſuperb tents, rich ſilks, and valuable jewels, a ſum of about 500,000 piaſtres; and the accommodation between the two powers is a perpetual peace. Theſe letters add, that the Count de Breugnon, Ambaſſador from France to the ſame Mooriſh Prince, hath preſented to him, beſides ſeveral curioſities, of the value of 400,000 livres, the ſum of 300,000 piaſtres, as a ranſom for the French Slaves; and that the treaty ſigned is not ſtiled a formal peace, but a truce for 20 years. Some French merchants, however, ſay, that it is a formal peace.

Poitiers, July 27. In the night between the 18th and 19th inſtant, a fire broke out in a wooden houſe near the church of Notre Dame, and made ſo rapid a progreſs, that both that and the houſe adjoining, which was of wood likewiſe, were in flames, before the accident was known. The fire caught the tower of the church, although ſeparated by a very wide ſtreet, and ſeveral houſes were pulled down to prevent the flames from ſpreading. Nine deaths have been occaſioned by this accident. A Lockſmith, his mother-in-law, and a child, were burnt in their beds; the wife, who was juſt recovered from an illneſs, eſcaped the flames, but died of the fright two hours after. Another woman, who was returning back to ſave her child, periſhed with it. A girl, who was in bed on the third ſtory, ſeeing the fire both above and below her, threw herſelf out of the window into the ſtreet, and was killed. A Sadler, who went into his room to ſave ſome of his effects, was cruſhed to death by the falling of a beam, together with a Shoe-maker's apprentice, who was giving him aſſiſtance. Two more perſons were hurt, and the loſs of goods is about 60,000 livres.

Ratiſbon, July 21. On the 10th inſtant a terrible ſtorm happened at Geiſenfeld, accompanied with hail, which in a ſhort time deſtroyed all the fruits of the earth, unroofed ſeveral houſes, and blew down upwards of 1000 trees. A ſtorm of the ſame kind happened in the ſame village 3 years ago. It is feared that the harveſt is every where in a manner deſtroyed, and the effects of this ſtorm were felt above ten leagues round.

Bois-le-duc, July 27. The advices received of the damages done by the late dreadful ſtorm of the 20th, which fell upon this town, and its environs, are moſt deplorable. Nineteen villages have ſuffered by the hail, which has damaged the houſes, and broke the windows to pieces. They count at Roſmalen no leſs than 509 oak trees torn up by the roots by the impetuoſity of the wind; and between 70 and 80 houſes and barns carried away, or partly deſtroyed, as alſo the Reformed and Catholic churches. Letters from the Lordſhip of Empel and Meerwyk bring, that the Proteſtant church and ſchool there are ſtripped of their roofs, that the Roman Catholic churches, and 18 houſes, are converted into heaps of ruins; that the village of Hartwicke had undergone the ſame fate, and that all the damages put together, amounted to an immenſe ſum.

Genoa, July 27. This morning arrived here a Spaniſh man of war of 70 guns, from Calvi. By the laſt letters from Corſica we hear, that the French Troops having evacuated Algaiola, and retired to Calvi, the Corſican Malecontents took immediate poſſeſſion of it, and ſent all the Jeſuits that had been landed there, to Calvi.

Berlin, July 31. We hear from Arneburg, a town in the New Marche of Brandenburgh, that 130 houſes have been burnt down by fire, beſides the church, and ſome public buildings.

PARIS, July 27.

THE King has conferred the honours of his chamber on the Duke of York, and that Prince supped, on the 23d, with his Majesty.

Berlin, July 28. Last Saturday in the evening, the marriage of the Princess Louisa-Henrietta Wilhelmina, of Brandenbourg, with the reigning Prince of Anhalt Dessau, was solemnized in the Royal Chapel at Charlottenbourg, by the Reverend Mr. Sack, first Chaplain to the King of Prussia; at which ceremony his Majesty, and the rest of the Royal Family, the foreign Ministers, and the Nobility, assisted.

Yesterday in the evening the ceremony of betrothing and exchanging of rings between her Royal Highness the Princess Wilhelmina, of Prussia, and his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange, was performed at Charlottenbourg, in the presence of his Prussian Majesty, and the rest of the Royal Family, &c. After which the French play, called Turcaret, was acted in the Orangerie: The gardens on this occasion were illuminated, there was a grand supper, and a ball, which lasted till this morning, when the King of Prussia returned to Potzdam.

Paris, July 29. The Abbé de la Chapelle, Censor Royal, and member of the Royal Society of London, invented, some time ago, a sort of cork waistcoat, which he named Scaphandre, by means whereof, any person can keep himself above water, not only without fear of sinking, but also preserve a perfect equilibrium, and the free use of his hands. He had already exhibited several public proofs of this machine, and repeated them the 17th instant in the middle of the Seine, between the Port à l'Anglois and the quarries. He threw himself into the water quite dressed, with his waistcoat, and was seen for more than an hour in all sorts of positions, as eating, drinking, charging and discharging a pistol, reading, writing, &c. The Abbé de la Chapelle hath also invented a kind of glove, made like the foot of a goose, by means of which, he swims and advances in the water in whatever direction he pleases. His Scaphandre, which may be of great utility on many occasions, differs in its construction from those cork jackets, invented and used long since in France and England.

Paris, August 1. Cardinal de Bernis, Archbishop of Alby, has acted in a manner that does great honour to his compassion and humanity. Finding provisions become very dear in his diocese, he has discharged all his domestics except three; telling them, that he could not any longer pay them wages, as the necessities of the poor increased every day, but at the same time offering to maintain them, if they could not get into other services, or find employment. This good bishop feeds 200 beggars every day in his court-yard, exclusive of the infirm, the sick, and the bashful poor, who are privately relieved by his bounty, both in his metropolis, and other towns of his diocese.

LONDON.

July 21. A certain pious house in this city, has lately been detected in mixing, with other ingredients, copper instead of gold. How long this has been practised is unknown; but it is presumed it has subsisted some years, as both the partners keep their carriages and country houses, and were esteemed honest men before this discovery.

We hear from Lisbon, that it is generally supposed in Portugal, that the Prime Minister has sold himself, and the interests of his country, to the French King.

July 25. A most extraordinary affair, we hear, happened some time ago in Dublin: A surgeon's son, with four other young fellows, being capitally convicted for a highway robbery, and ordered for execution, the surgeon went the evening before they were to suffer, to take leave of his unfortunate boy, and carried a preparation in his pocket, which he left with the lad, to prevent the infamy of a public death; the son took it after the father's departure, and it just began to operate as a reprieve was brought for him and his companions; he expired however in a short time, and the rest were pardoned. The father was so afflicted at the circumstance, that he died within a fortnight, not without suspicion of having hastened his end by some such potion as he had prescribed for his son.

By letters from Petersburgh, we are advised, that a company of merchants is associated there, to trade directly to Hamburgh, and are now fitting out three ships for that purpose. Time will shew the advantages of this new branch of commerce.

July 28. Letters from Paris, dated the 13th instant, say, "There is a Plea now under consideration of the Grand Chamber of Parliament, founded on a demand of two millions made by the Marquis de Bussy, Major-General, on the East India Company. He alledges that he was obliged to advance the above sum while he commanded the troops in Golconda, from 1753 to 1758. The Company, on the other hand, demand that he may render an account of his conduct there, otherwise that he may be sentenced to pay them nine millions, which he hath disposed of according to his own fancy."

July 30. On Saturday last a farmer near Thaxted, in Essex, aged 81 years, was married to a young woman in the neighbourhood of 19, who just makes his seventh wife.

July 31. Some letters from Genoa advise, that all the Nobles, who compose the Great Council, have had circular letters sent them to repair to town, in order to deliberate on speedy measures to be taken with the Court of France, relative to the island of Corsica.

On Wednesday evening the new-invented machine, for the preservation of lives and goods in case of fire, was exhibited at a Gentleman's house near King James's-stairs, Shadwell, when thirteen persons, and several boxes and trunks, were conveyed from a two pair of stairs window, in the space of six minutes.

August 3. A magnificent stomacher is said to be making for the Queen, which when executed will be worth 50,000 guineas.

As the taking of a list of Papists in this kingdom at present makes some noise, it may be observed, that it hath been a rule almost every twenty years since the Revolution to do the same, so as to know if they increased or diminished; and perhaps that may be the case at present. Others say, that all Papists who pay 4l. rent yearly, will be taxed in a small sum, to be collected with the house and window-tax duties.

A comet was lately seen at Limerick, in Ireland, in the south west quarter, fifty-five degrees high, and fifteen degrees and a half in the sign Taurus. Its tail described an angle of twenty-two degrees in length, about five 3-4ths diameter of the sun, and its motion about three degrees in twenty-four hours.

Extract of a private letter from a Gentleman in Dublin, to his Friend in London, July 25.

"I am credibly informed, that the late Lord Chancellor Bowes was originally intended, by his parents, for a Baptist Minister, and was ordained, and preached his trial sermon as such; but afterwards betook himself to the study of the Law, for which Nature designed him, and in which, through the favour of Providence, and his own great abilities, he rose to the pinacle of the profession.

"His Excellency came hither a Barrister, with Lord Chancellor West, about the year 1725; and on the calling of the new Parliament in 1727, he was elected one of the Burgesses for Taghmon, in the county of Wexford. In 1730 he was made Solicitor-General; and in 1740 was appointed Attorney-General. In 1743 he was made Lord Chief Baron; and in 1757, on the death of Lord Joycelyn, was advanced to the high station of Lord Chancellor; and in 1758, to the dignity of a Baron of this kingdom; but his Lordship dying unmarried, the title is extinct."

A poor man (aged 105) without any known firname, but well remembered about Ware, in Hertfordshire, which place he used to traverse, with a remarkable long beard, selling matches and ballads, and playing some tricks of dexterity or slight of hand, and used in his patrol commonly to be saying, Poor Joe all alone, by which term he was well known. The house where he died he had possessed some years, sheltering himself at times there, though in common he lay about in stables, hay-lofts, &c. and is reported not to have lain upon a bed for more than fifty years past, notwithstanding which, he died worth upwards of 3000l. which he has by will left for the benefit of widows and orphan children, under the direction of certain persons named in his will for that purpose.

Extract of a Letter from Paris.

"The success at Gottingen, in curing the tooth-ach with the loadstone, has induced several persons to make experiments here: M. D'Arquier, in particular, correspondent of the Academy of Sciences, has written to M. de la Lande, that he has cured a great number by this means. A lady of Thoulouse suffered severely for many days, from a rottenness in one of the grinding teeth; there was a desluxion from it, and she could neither sleep, eat, nor even shut her mouth. M. D'Arquier applied firmly against the tooth the armour of a little loadstone of about a cubic inch. In about eight minutes she perceived a coolness in the tooth, the pain ceased, and never returned again. Another lady, from the same loadstone, perceived a sharp cold on the very moment of its application, and afterwards a feeling as if something moved within the tooth, and the pain ceased. M. D'Arquier afterwards procured iron bars of five inches, to which he communicated the magnetic virtue by means of the double touch; he joined several together, and formed an artificial loadstone, with which he has performed a variety of cures. He remarked, that the effect has been more immediate when he held several bars at the extremity of one another, and when the magnetic virtue was the strongest. However, he observes, that about a fourth of the patients either received no benefit by this means, or else the pain returned a few days afterwards. The loadstone has always succeeded most, when the pain was most severe, the rottenness the most considerable, and the desluxion the least."

We hear that a Captain of a ship, now in the river, was brought home in irons, by order of a Governor abroad, for causing a man to be whipped in such a manner as to occasion his death.

August 4. The Empress of Russia has desired the congregation de la Propagande, at Rome, to send some Missionaries into the provinces of Astracan, and that part of the Palatinate of Kiow which is under her dominion, in order to preach there the Catholic religion; her Imperial Majesty offering to pay the expence of their journey, and to provide for their support.

The council of Castille has published an ordinance of his Catholic Majesty, ordering all the professors of the Universities of the kingdom, on entering upon their functions, to take an oath, that they will always follow the doctrine of the council of Constance, and particularly of the 15th session of that council, which condemns the pernicious error of those who, under the pretext of probabilism, disperse in different writings the abominable doctrine of Regicide; writings which his Majesty ardently desires to have totally extirpated and abolished, as extremely prejudicial to the state, to the public tranquility, and to the legal power of Sovereigns.

Extract of a letter from Naples.

"The Prince of San-Severo, who has rendered himself famous for his knowledge in chemistry, has made some extraordinary discoveries. He has invented a method of giving to white marble a fixed colour of any kind, which penetrates into the whole mass, of any bulk whatever. Several eye-witnesses have broke some of these blocks, and the internal parts have been of as fine a red as the superficies. What is still more extraordinary is, that he can paint any figure upon the surface of the marble in such a manner, that the colours shall penetrate into the block, so that if you saw off ever so many lamina, still the figure shall remain perfect."

August 6. Yesterday a Painter in Fetter-Lane, Fleet-Street, was examined before Alderman Crosby, at Guildhall, charged with starving, beating, and otherwise cruelly using, in conjunction with his wife, not yet taken, two girls their apprentices, and was committed to Wood-Street compter. It appeared by the evidence of the youngest girl, who is about 14 years of age (the eldest nor being able to speak) that their mistress used to tie them up to a staple, and horsewhip them, without any real cause; and that her master never did it, but knew of his wife's cruel behaviour to them; that on Sundays they were locked up in a dark place, under the stairs, in the cellar; that they had each of them a piece of bread, but nothing to drink, not even water. A surgeon, who had examined the eldest girl, declared that the wounds she had received by whipping were so bad, for want of dressing, that her shift had eaten into them, and they appeared as if cut with a knife; that hardly a part of her body was free; and that her head and face were much wounded. The loss of her speech, the surgeon was of opinion, was occasioned by some hurt she had received in the glands of her neck: The youngest girl is almost reduced to a skeleton, much wounded, and is a shocking spectacle: It is thought the eldest cannot recover; they were both sent to St. Bartholomew's Hospital. This affair was discovered by a journeyman baker, who used to hear the cries of the poor girls. It was likewise deposed, that the above persons had made a practice of taking apprentices, but it was not known what became of some of them, it being pretended that they were sent into the country.---When the officer went on Tuesday to search the house in Fetter-Lane for the eldest girl, he was told there, that she was 20 miles in the country; but, on being severely threatened, the master brought her out from some place in the cellar.

Letters from Genoa, dated the 12th ult. say, "A reconciliation hath taken place between our government and the Holy See; and the former hath accepted for Archbishop of this city, M. Lercari; for Bishop of Ventimiglia, Father Giovo, a Benedictine; and for Bishop of Brugnato, the Abbè Gentile; with a clause, that the rights of the Republick shall not be prejudiced thereby for the future. On Saturday the coronation of M. Marcel Durazzo, our new Doge, was performed."

August 8. On Saturday last a tumultuous mob assembled at Crockerton, near Warminster, Wilts, and pulled down and destroyed a mill, called a Jig-mill, which was lately erected by a wealthy clothier for raising nap on cloth. This mill performed in one hour what forty men could not do in six hours; after the mob had demolished the mill, and its apparatus, they dispersed, without doing further mischief.

Monday last an odd accident happened: A Master Chimney-sweeper, who lives in Burleigh-street, having several apprentice boys, was employed to sweep the Chimnies of a Lady's house at the Court-end of the town; the Lady had the curiosity to stand by, and observing one of the boys to have a fine white sett of teeth, asked if he would sell any of them; the poor child willingly consented, and the master asked three guineas for a couple, to pick and chuse where she pleased; the bargain was struck, a tooth-drawer sent for, who instantly whipped out a couple, the money was paid, and away went Jack and his master well contented; but before they got home, the master stopped to buy Jack a pair of silver buckles, with which the poor child was satisfied for his share, and went home and ordered a gallon of beer to regale his family, changed another of the guineas, and received a crooked quarter-guinea in part, which putting into his mouth whilst he reckoned the rest of the change, it slipped into his throat, where it now remains, and he is in St. George's Hospital, past all hopes of recovery, notwithstanding all the efforts of the eminent Surgeons of that place.

August 10. The reigning Duke of Wurtemburgh is expected here in a few weeks, and, it is said, will spend part of the winter in London.

We are informed, that the salary and perquisites of the Lord Chancellor of Ireland amount, in the whole, to upwards of ten thousand pounds per ann. besides the advantages accruing from the disposal of places, &c. and, considering the cheapness of living in that country, it is thought to be equal to twenty thousand pounds per ann.

On Wednesday last, as a young couple were going to be married at a church west of Temple Bar, a well dressed young woman, with a child in her arms, gave the Parson a note into his hand, which he soon delivered to the intended bridegroom, who was so confounded at the contents, that he ran out of the church without speaking a word.

On Thursday a bailif made use of the following stratagem to execute a writ against a French dancing-master in Westminster, after several unsuccessful attempts. The prisoner had kept his room for several days, and would admit no body to come near him but an old woman, his shoe-black; the bailif took the hint, and dressed himself up in the old woman's clothes (by means of a small bribe) whereby he got easy admittance, and secured the Frenchman, who immediately paid debt and costs.

Extract of a letter from Lyons, dated July 20.

"A trial will soon come on in this city for a crime of the most horrid nature: A young woman, very beautiful, born of honest parents, though not rich, became the object of the criminal desires of three young men. Each had separately attempted to seduce her, but without success; the better to accomplish their designs they joined together, and had recourse to the stratagems of a procuress; this woman, under some pretence, drew the girl to her house, and immediately informed the three libertines thereof; whither they hastened, and gained by force what they could not obtain by consent; but quickly the fear of punishment seized them, and the result of their deliberation was to kill the young woman: They cut her into pieces, and threw them into the Rhone.

"Some days passed without the father and mother being able to discover what was become of their daughter; but the river having successively thrown on shore the members of a mangled dead body, it was concluded that the girl had been assassinated. It was at length discovered that she had been at the house of the Procures, who was thereupon taken into custody and examined, when she confessed the crime, and the perpetrators of it, and sentence is expected soon to be passed."

August 12. The King of Prussia has made the Princess Wilhelmina his niece, the intended consort of the Prince Stadtholder, a present of a most superb toilet, of silver, gilt.

Extract of a letter from Paris, dated July 31.

"They write from Compeigne, that all the foreign Ministers, and the principal nobility, are alternately entertaining the Duke of York in the most brilliant manner; and his Highness is often with the Royal Family. The Princesses having asked that Prince how he liked the troops which he had seen reviewed, he made answer, I am so well satisfied with their manœuvres, and think them so fine, and so well disciplined, that I hope, for the sake of my brother, never to see them but on the plain of Royal-Lieu."

Whereas various reports have been spread in news-papers and otherwise, That a court of Exchequer was to be established in America---The act of parliament respecting the same is now come over, and contains nothing more than confirming an act of this province, past in the 11th Year of King William the third, which may be seen in the province law-book, page 97, without the least addition of any new power whatsoever.

NEW-HAVEN, October 5.

Captain Harrison says, "During his stay at Turk Islands, an armed Spanish schooner arrived at Shelburne-town, with dispatches from the President of St. Domingo, the purport of which, as far as he could learn, was proposals from him to his Majesty's Governor of Turk-Islands, of a reciprocal delivery of such slaves as might make their escape from either islands, on paying 25 pieces of eight for the apprehending of each slave, and a rial per day for maintenance; with an offer at the same time to the English Governor of such refreshments as he, or the British inhabitants, settled at Turk Islands, might have occasion for, or stand in need of.--The commander of the armed schooner, after delivering his message, sailed the evening before he left the island."

NEWPORT, October 12.

We hear from Nantucket, that four Indians, who belonged to a whaling sloop, which arrived there last Monday, having had some difference at sea, agreed to decide the dispute on their arrival; accordingly, when the sloop got in as far as the bar, and only three white men on board, who were asleep in the cabin, the Indians, who were in the forecastle, armed themselves with some lances, which lay upon deck, with which they fought, divided into two parties; when both of one party were killed on the spot, but the other two were not hurt. The white men, on hearing the noise, ran out of the cabin, and seeing what had been transacted, immediately secured the murderers.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in London, to one of the members of the society for arts in this city, July 22, 1767.

"The people of New-York seem to me to be too infatuated with a foreign trade, ever to make any great progress in manufactures; and unless you sell your linen, at least as cheap as they can have it from Silesia, Austria, Bohemia and Russia, thro' England, Holland or Hamburgh, I fear you will not establish an extensive manufactory:---You live in as plentiful a country as any, and your people might work as cheap: I do not mean in the city of New-York; cities are not calculated for manufactures, since it is always dearer living in them than in the country."

Captain Merchant arrived here on Monday last, in 53 days from Jamaica: About 25 Days ago he met with much bad weather, which obliged him to put into Roanoke, in North-Carolina, where he lay windbound 14 days: While he lay there, the Hornet sloop of war, Captain Morgan, stationed at Cape-Fear, being on a cruize along shore, narrowly escaped being lost near Roanoke: The 7th of September, Captain Merchant spoke with two Spanish men of war off Cape St. Antonio, from the Havannah, bound for the Rio St. Esprit, in the bay of Mexico, who saluted him very civilly.

Sunday the Eagle transport, Captain Markham, sailed for Europe with the returned companies of the royal train of artillery, exchanged for those lately arrived here in that ship.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

On Sunday laſt Captain HAMILTON arrived here from Liverpool, but laſt from Belfaſt, by whom we have the following Advices, viz.

GENOA, July 27.

THE laſt advices from Corſica bring, that the inhabitants of Calvi, in concert with the Malecontents, had contrived to bring into the town arms concealed in faſcines and ſacks: Their plan was, to have put themſelves in a condition of oppoſing the deſcent of the Genoeſe, when the French troops ſhould have embarked; but the plot being diſcovered, the French commander had cauſed the arms to be ſeized, and ſeven of the principal inhabitants to be arreſted.

A Pink is juſt ſailed for that port laden with flour; and the two gallies and three feluccas, commanded by Captain Berlinghieri, returned here yeſterday, after landing at Calvi, one hundred and fifty men, which have relieved the French garriſon.

Stockholm, July 10. It has hardly ceaſed raining the laſt ſix weeks, during which time the wind has been cold, and we have had ſome hail. It is to be feared that this weather, ſo unuſual at this ſeaſon, will do much miſchief to the fruits of the earth, which is the more to be lamented, as all the neceſſaries of life are already exceſſive dear.

Warſaw, July 18. It is ſaid that ſeveral prelates of the kingdom are preparing an act of acceſſion to the general Confederacy. Among them are the Archbiſhop of Lemberg, the Prince Biſhop of Cracow, and the Biſhop of Kamineck. It is added, that the new Primate has had ſome private conferences with them on this ſubject.

Algiers, June 16. Some weeks ago the Aga, who is the Chief General of the Regency, marched with a great body of troops againſt the Moors, who inhabit the mountains, to oblige them to pay their annual tribute; which as they refuſed, he was obliged to make war againſt them. In the firſt attack he met with great ſucceſs, but the Moors being afterwards conſiderably reinforced, routed the Algerines, and made a great number of them priſoners. The Regency being informed by letters from the other Generals, that this defeat was owing to the negligence of the Aga, the Dey gave orders that he ſhould be ſtrangled. As ſoon as the order was ſhewn to him, he put himſelf in a poſture of defence, and endeavoured to make his eſcape; but eight men, who were prepared for that purpoſe, maſſacred him with their ſabres. Upon taking an inventory of his effects, there were found in his houſe 19000 ſequins, 66 diamond rings, and a great number of gold watches, all which were confiſcated.

Warſaw, July 29. Prince Charles de Radzivil, Marſhal of the General Confederacy of Poland, arrived here yeſterday.

The affairs of this kingdom ſeem to be daily more embroiled. The Confederates do not agree with reſpect to the abuſes that are to be redreſſed, and the General Confederacy is not the moſt favourable to the Diſſidents. From ſome circumſtances it even ſeems as if the General Confederacy, if it was not for the intereſt of the new Primate, had already loſt the confidence of Prince de Repnin, the Ruſſian Ambaſſador.

LONDON.

Auguſt 15. Yeſterday morning ſome diſpatches arrived in town from the Hon. Colonel O Harra, Governor of Senegambia, which were immediately carried to the Secretaries of State.

Yeſterday morning his Grace the Duke of Grafton had a numerous Levee of the Nobility and Gentry.

Yeſterday morning the Lord Chancellor arrived in town from his ſeat in Kent, and afterwards attended a Privy Council at Mr. Secretary Conway's office, in Cleveland Row, as did alſo ſeveral heads of the Miniſtry.

Yeſterday in the afternoon, the Right Hon. the Earl of Pembroke, General Harvey, and the Colonels Philipſon and Bathurſt, arrived in town from France, where they had been to ſee the review of the French troops.

We hear that as ſoon as a new Miniſtry is formed, the Earl of Chatham will take a tour to Italy, for the recovery of his health.

Politicians are now convinced through what channel the ſtream of court favour runs, when the Secretary of an unpopular Nobleman, is appointed Secretary to the Viceroy of a neighbouring Kingdom.

A Britiſh Miniſter, at a foreign Court, has lately wrote home, that none of his memorials had the leaſt attention paid to them, on account of the contemptible idea which they entertained of the inſtability of our councils at home.

A vulgar error generally prevails, that no Iriſhman will ever be appointed to the chief Government of our ſiſter nation, as if we could have any objection to inveſt our fellow ſubjects of that generous Kingdom with ſuch an office, when they are every day appointed to greater employments (the Secretaryſhip, for inſtance) on this ſide the water.

By a letter from Paris, we learn that orders had juſt been diſpatched to Count de Marbeuf, Commander for the King in Corſica, to hold the French troops in readineſs to debark from the whole iſland by the middle of October next.

They write from Smyrna, that a Knight of Malta, who had been a priſoner in the Caſtle of the Seven Towers, near Conſtantinople, ten years, lately made his eſcape on board a French man of war, and had the good fortune to get clear off.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, Auguſt 9.

The following is the King of Pruſſia's anſwer to the letter of felicitation of the States General on the marriage concluded on the 9th ult. between the Princeſs Sophia-Frederica-Wilhelmina, and the Prince Stadtholder.

"High and mighty Lords, our good friends and allies:

"As the eminent qualities of the Prince of Orange and Naſſau, and the particular affection which we have at all times avowed for the houſe of that Prince, have engaged us to give, with all poſſible good-will, our conſent to the marriage of his Serene Highneſs with the Princeſs Sophia-Frederica-Wilhelmina of Pruſſia, we are extraordinarily pleaſed to find, by the approaching alliance of our well-beloved niece with a Prince ſo dear to the reſpectable Republic of the United-Provinces, and ſo worthy of her, the joyful occaſion to ſtrengthen, and more cloſely unite the bond of friendſhip, in which we have the ſatisfaction to live with them. We therefore acknowledge, in the moſt cordial manner, the agreeable aſſurances which your High Mightineſſes have been pleaſed to give us, by your affectionate letter, of the 9th of this month, of the part which you take in this happy event: We join with you our prayers to heaven, that it may pleaſe the Almighty to regard this marriage with a favourable eye, that there may reſult therefrom to us a reciprocal joy, that it may contribute to the completion of our happineſs, and be attended with bleſſings. Finally, We are diſpoſed, and ready to give your High Mightineſſes every teſtimony of friendſhip ſubſiſting between two good neighbours.

July 21, 1767. Signed FREDERICK."

Tranſlation of a letter from the Princeſs of Pruſſia to the States-General.

High and Mighty Lords!

"The friendſhip of your High Mightineſſes, which I have always greatly eſteemed, is become in ſo particular a manner valuable to me, on occaſion of my approaching marriage with his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Orange, that I want expreſſion to teſtify the pleaſure I have in the aſſurances your High Mightineſſes give of the part you take in this affair. I ſhall not fail to convince you, that the affection of the Prince of Orange towards the Republic is actually become my own; and that the ſame zeal ſhall animate us both for advancing its honour and happineſs. I ſhall do all in my power to gain the approbation of your High Mightineſſes, and to ſhew that I am, with particular reſpect, your affectionate friend,

WILHELMINA, Princeſs of Pruſſia."

The Count de Malzhan, Envoy extraordinary from the King of Pruſſia, and Count de Welderen, inveſted with the ſame character from the States-General, having communicated to his Majeſty the approaching marriage of the Prince Stadtholder with the Princeſs, niece of the King of Pruſſia, his Majeſty has ſent compliments in writing, on this alliance, to the King of Pruſſia, to their High Mightineſſes, and to the Prince and Princeſs, who are to be eſpouſed.

This day arrived a mail from Holland, by which there is advice that a ſquadron of four Venetian men of war was arrived at Algier, on board one of which ſhips was a member of the Senate of that Republic, who had orders to offer peace to the Dey and Regency, and in caſe the conditions were not accepted, to declare war againſt them immediately.

We hear that the Earl of Rochford, Ambaſſador at the Court of France, is only come hither on his own private affairs, and that he will ſoon return to the Court of France.

We hear that the Earl of Chatham's preſent illneſs is principally a nervous fever, attended with a kind of rheumatick ague, affecting the head chiefly; and it is ſuppoſed to have been occaſioned by his journey to town from Bath in a fit of the gout, in the ſevereſt weather of laſt winter. Dr. Addington now reſides in his Lordſhip's houſe, as his indiſpoſition requires the conſtant attendance of one of his phyſicians.

We hear his Excellency Lord Townſend, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, intends ſetting out for that kingdom the 20th of next month.

The aſſertion in the papers, that Lord Clive, with his late acquiſitions, is now worth eighty thouſand pounds per annum, is void of truth; and the public may be aſſured, that his Lordſhip has not made the leaſt addition to his fortune by his late expedition to India.

We are informed, that a great perſonage's late reſignation of a very high office, was by no means voluntary, he having previouſly declared, that if it was taken from him, he never would accept of any other place from the C----t, eſpecially while the preſent M------y continued in power, at whoſe behaviour he is ſo much irritated, that it is thought he will be a perpetual thorn in their ſide for the future.

They write from Glaſgow, that a ſurprizing take of herrings was lately made at the Iſle of Sky, which amounted to one hundred boats load; and they had likewiſe great ſucceſs in the Bays of Glenluce and Cantyre.

In moſt of the counties in England, and part of Scotland, the corn in general looks extremely well; and although not quite ſo forward as is uſual at this ſeaſon, yet there is a better proſpect of a good crop of grain than has been ſeen at any time within theſe twenty years paſt.

Auguſt 18. A plan is ſaid to be under conſideration, in order for diſcovering a north-weſt paſſage over North-America by land, which has ſo often, in vain, been attempted by ſea.

We hear from repeated trials of North American oak, at the principal dock yards in this kingdom, the maſter builders are entirely of opinion, that the timber of that country is by no means hard enough, or of ſufficient durance, to be uſed in the conſtruction of his Majeſty's ſhips of war.

Letters from Paris are full of the reſolutions of the parliament of Paris againſt the whole body of Jeſuits, for totally depriving them of their privileges and prerogatives, and baniſhing them out of the kingdom for ever.

Letters from Paris, dated Auguſt 7, ſay, "The Duke of York is to go with the King, the 10th inſtant, to Chantilly, where the Prince of Conde has invited about 300 perſons, approved of by the King.

We hear from Paris, that a ſhark, twenty two feet long, was lately caught in the mouth of the River Seine, and was ſhewn about the country as a great curioſity.

Letters from Paris mention the death of the celebrated Surgeon Albinus, reckoned the moſt ſkilful Anatomiſt in Europe.

A LOT of Ground, situate in Baltimore Town, fronting on Gay-street 54 Feet, on Second-street 165 Feet, and 54 Feet on Frederick-street, whereon are erected a commodious Brick Dwelling-house and Store, with Yard, Garden, &c. that rents for upwards of 40l. per Annum. For Title and Terms, apply to THOMAS JONES. ‡

To be Rented for a term of years, not exceeding seven,

A Tract of land, lying on the bay side, in Spesutia lower hundred, Baltimore county, between the rivers Bush and Susquehanna, and contains near six hundred acres. The part of the country where this tract lies, is known to many, and from its fertility induced the first settlers of Baltimore county to fix on it for their first residence: There is about two hundred acres of cleared land, all very rich and tillable, about one hundred acres hard marsh banked in, and one or two hundred more may be easily put into meadow.---Its excellence for stock, or tillage, yields to none, as it is adapted for either planting or farming, and the opportunity of grazing may easily be conceived from the quantity of marsh improved, and easily to be so.---The most of the land is under good fence, in a neck, and easily supported.---There are good improvements on the premises, as a dwelling-house two stories high, two rooms and a passage on a floor, and fire places in each room: There are also good improvements of all kinds, five working hands, a large stock of cattle, horses, sheep, hogs, &c. which will be lett together, the tenant returning the principal, and paying the yearly rent to be agreed on; there are forty-seven bushels of wheat put in the ground. As it will be a valuable place, for a knowing, industrious, and sober man to sit down on, the subscriber hopes none else, but such a one as will expect to make money for himself, will apply. The terms may be known, by applying to the subscriber, in Baltimore-Town; or to Mr. Spesutia Hull, or Amos Garret, who live near the place, on Swan-creek. HENRY STEVENSON. *5W

N. B. As the rent will be considerable, the character of the person (if a stranger) will be expected, and security for the payment of the rent, if required, and to be entered on the first of January next.
